CHAIN-LETTER PLAN TO MAKE FORTUNES NOW MAD SCRAMBLE

United States Swept by Wild Drive for Wealth
Despite Postoffice Threat to Bar Participants From Use of Mails—Roosevelt Receives 200 Requests

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 8 (AP).—Spurred by receipt at the White House of over 200 "send-a-dime" letters addressed to the President, Postoffice Department officials today held over the heads of such writers the possibility of being denied the use of the mails. White House attaches turned the letters over to Postmaster-General Farley.

Under the fraud and lottery laws, the department could issue fraud orders holding up all mail addressed to any person known to have written such letters, officials said. Possession by the department of a letter known to have been written by an individual, they contended, would be evidence sufficient for an order similar to those issued against sweepstakes, lotteries and their agents. Should such a ban be ordered, postmasters and post office employees would be instructed to return all mail to senders with the word "fraudulent" stamped on the face. Letters without return cards would be sent to the dead letter office.

MONEY-MAD MAELSTROM
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 8 (AP).—Chain letter "factories"—$18,000 changed hands at three of them within five hours—turned this southwestern Missouri city today into a money-mad maelstrom.
A whirlpool of humanity—society women, waitresses, college students and taxi-drivers—jammed downtown streets. Women shoved each other roughly in a bargain-counter rush on the numerous chain headquarters.

STARTED AS JOKE
It started last night as a joke. By sunup, it was the town's biggest business. Two, three and five-dollar bills were being passed around.

CUBAN REVOLT QUICKLY ENDED
Radical Leader Shot to Death During Fight—Ransom Money Found

HAVANA, May 8 (AP).—Government soldiers, an unimpeachable source said, smashed a miniature revolt today by killing Antonio Gutierrez, radical leader, who was backed against the army by a small detachment of the navy.
Soldiers' bullets struck down the young former Secretary of the Interior, War and Navy after a grim battle at the mouth of Matanzas Harbor, sixty-five miles east of Havana.

FIVE OTHERS KILLED
Four soldiers and a follower of Gutierrez were slain. It was learned, and a large amount of the ransom money found in the $500,000 kidnapping of Emilio Riala Bonet were found near the body of Gutierrez. The Government had charged the former secretary with the kidnapping.
Gutierrez, it was known, had long controlled a large part of the navy, which he once directed, and persuaded naval men at Matanzas to aid him in escaping to the United States. He was a native of Philadelphia.

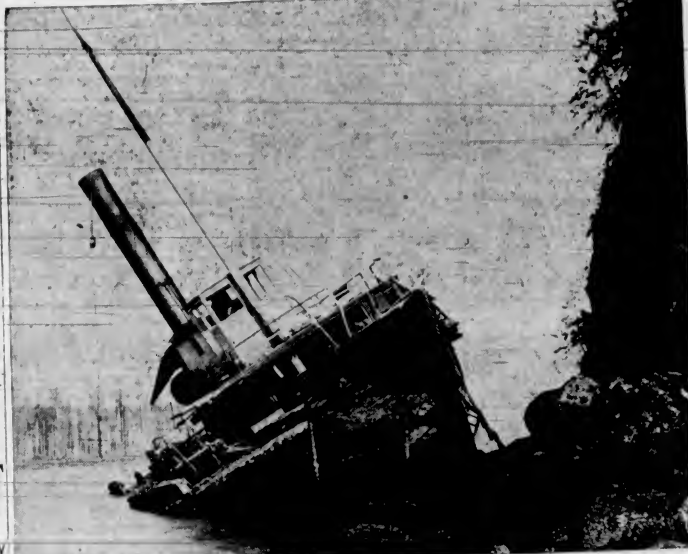

OFFICERS SET TRAP
Army intelligence officers learned of the conspiracy and set a trap this morning. A small naval vessel was moving into the bay to aid Gutierrez to flee the island and the fighting started between rebellious sailors and loyal soldiers.
Reports in other quarters said that remnants of the sailors took the boat and escaped, and that others were hiding in the hills, but this was not immediately confirmed.

SLAYS MAN FOR INSURANCE MONEY
Accused Confesses to Chastly Murder Leaving Victim in Burning Automobile

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 8 (AP).—A confession that he murdered a man, whose identity he did not even know, in an effort to defraud insurance companies, was obtained late today, according to Assistant District Attorney W. G. Andrews, from Frank Di Stasio, fifty-one.
The confession was announced shortly after Di Stasio and his son, Anthony, twenty-three, were indicted for murder in the first degree.

According to Andrews, the elder Di Stasio said he expected the victim's body, found in the burned wreckage of an abandoned car, to be identified as his own, and that the son was to benefit through $12,000 insurance on his life.

Century Since Beaver Was Launched

Pictured above is the wreck of the pioneer steamer of the Pacific, the famous vessel Beaver, launched on the Thames one hundred years ago Tuesday for the Hudson's Bay Company's operations on this coast. After fifty-three years of usefulness she grounded at the entrance to Vancouver Harbor, where she fell prey to souvenir hunters. The British Columbia Historical Society is celebrating the centennial of the Beaver this week, with an exhibition of relics of the steamer, at the Archives.

Icebreaker Goes to Aid of British Ship Ashore on Cape Breton

LOUISBURG, N.S., May 8 (CP).—Emergency orders sent the Government icebreaker N. B. McLean speeding out of Louisbourg tonight toward the British freighter Langleidridge, stranded, a few miles down the Cape Breton coast with twenty-six men aboard.
Trapped in the grinding ice floes off Guyon Island, the steamship was in a serious plight with water pouring into two holds and her hull ripped badly on Bull Rock.
Latest reports from the ship indicated that her crew's position was not immediately dangerous.

NEW CONDITIONS RAISE THE LIMIT

Diplomatic Correspondent Says Great Britain Will Stipulate 1,600 Planes for Her Minimum

LONDON, May 9 (CP-Havas).—Great Britain, in preparing to discuss air limitation, will stipulate 1,600 planes as her minimum need, the diplomatic correspondent of The Daily Telegraph said today.
This estimate, he said, has emerged from British deliberations toward making an "air Locarno" a separate item from the five-point proposition extended to Germany by the Anglo-French agreement of February 3.
The plan shortly will be submitted to France and Italy, it is understood. The correspondent said the situation had changed since the Geneva Air Commission met in February, 1935, raising the minimum requirements.

Big Nugget Is Found in Atlin Area

Half-Mile Path Cut by Tornado

ATLIN, B.C., May 8 (CP).—A thirty-ounce gold nugget valued at about $1,000 has caused a big stir in this North country and sent three old-time prospectors away to a good start in the season's hunt for gold.
The three men, Allen Morrison, Dan McKay and F. Johnson, made the find on Ruby Creek, near here, while placer-mining.
It is the fourth big nugget found around Atlin district since the days of '98.

HIS MAJESTY WELCOMES HOME LEADERS OF EMPIRE OVERSEAS

B.C. Offering Is Taken to Palace—By Agent-General

BRITISH Columbia's Thundervault Bowl was delivered at Buckingham Palace yesterday by W. A. McKinnon, acting agent-general, and will be placed before King George by Sir Frederick Ponsonby, Premier Pattullo has been advised from London House.
His Majesty was said to have expressed interest in the unusual offering from this Province, which was accompanied by an illuminated address and a contribution of $3,000, towards the King's Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund, the cheque going to Ottawa.

SEES VALUE OF TRADING

Premier Bennett Urges Greater Co-operation in Empire Trade Matters

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP).—Greater co-operation in trade matters between nations of the British Empire was urged today by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett today as a solution of some economic problems of Empire countries.
Mr. Bennett spoke from London in an Empire broadcast and his remarks were directed primarily to the people of the United Kingdom. He told them he appreciated the honor of representing Canada at the King's Jubilee celebrations and assured them that Canadians would accept a second place to none in loyalty to the Crown.

PROUD OF PLACE
The Empire was a "good fellowship," he said, and Canadians were proud to share in it. This pride was based not "on boastful imperialism," but on a realization that the British Crown stood for the North was written into the records of the Empire.

The most notable event in the King's twenty-five year reign had been the Great War. It had meant suffering and Canada was still suffering from its effects. But Canada had emerged from it a full-fledged nation under the British Crown. Canadians did not regret their part in it, but hoped its lesson would not be forgotten.

Vancouver Man Wins Governor-General's Medal at University

R. F. Christy Heads List of 318 Graduates Announced Yesterday—Esquimalt Girl Awarded French Government Bronze Medal

VANCOUVER, May 8 (CP).—An improvement in the average standing of the candidates was shown in the results of the final examination of 1,730 University of British Columbia students issued by the Senate today.
Scholarships, prizes and medals to and from the French Government were awarded, and first and second class standings are somewhat more numerous than last year.
The graduating class numbers 718. The Governor-General's Gold Medal, major award of the year in the faculty of arts and science, was won by Robert F. Christy, Vancouver.
Deborah A. Atch, of Esquimalt, took first class honors in French Monday.

True Family Atmosphere Penetrates Pomp of Royal Levee When Dominion Leaders Reaffirm Loyalty to the Crown and Members of Diplomatic Corps Tender Congratulations

Prime Minister Bennett Is Spokesman for the Dominion

LONDON, May 8 (CP).—In tones of warm affection, the leaders of the Empire overseas today reaffirmed the loyalty of their peoples to the Crown, evoking from His Majesty the King an expression of heartfelt gratitude. Not all the glitter and pomp of the occasion could dispel the true family atmosphere as one by one the Empire's prime ministers and other representatives spoke to His Majesty, and the King replied in like vein.

King Sends Message to Adolf Hitler

BERLIN, May 8 (CP-Havas).—King George today assured Chancellor Adolf Hitler that "peace is the interest closest to my heart, and the aim of the British Government," in a cablegram to the Reich Leader, thanking him for the congratulations extended on the occasion of the Silver Jubilee.
The Sovereign also said he was sure the entire civilized world joined him in this wish.

MAKES UNUSUAL "MERCY FLIGHT"

Aviator Flies to Obtain Permission for Doctor to Perform Operation

GOD'S LAKE, Man., May 8 (CP).—One of the most unusual "mercy flights" in aviation's history in the North was written into the records tonight, with Pilot Herb Seagrims, of Wings, Limited, the hero.
A woman was lying in hospital at Winnipeg, 350 miles south of here, seriously ill. An operation was imperative, but her physician was unwilling to proceed without the assent of her husband, at a small lake north of here.

Details were sent here by wireless, but communication with the man was complicated by the fact that the conditions would not permit landing of an airplane on the lake where he was staying. Seagrims solved the difficulty.
He dropped a message, asking that if the husband wished the operation to be proceeded with, to signal by making a triangle of three limbs on the ice of the lake. The signal was given. Seagrims returned here and the operation was successfully performed.

Baby Is Born in Potato Patch

BELLA COOLA, B.C., May 8 (AP).—A six-pound baby boy, born to Mrs. Alex. Davis last night while she was working in a potato patch, was in a serious condition in the hospital today, but the mother was reported gaining strength.
The mother and child were removed to the hospital as soon as possible, but the baby suffered from ninety minutes' exposure to the evening air. The child was Mrs. Davis' fourth.

ANXIOUS TO BE REALLY SEVERE

Nazis Regard Beheading as Far Too Mild for Some Offences

BERLIN, May 8 (CP-Havas).—The future Reich penal code, which judicial authorities believe should provide something more severe than the headman's axe, such as for example the "living death" of medieval proscription, will be based on fundamental Nazi concepts, it was learned today.
All offences, now being classified by a preparatory commission, will be subdivided into these four categories:

Attacks against the safety of the people; attacks against the safety of the state and Government; attacks against national patriotism; attacks against nationalities.
TOO GOOD A FATE
Death by the headman's axe is too good for those who violate the more sacred tenets of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's code, some Nazis contend, and they plan to condemn those guilty of heinous offences to be deprived of all human rights. They will be subject even to condemnation to death without trial, it is said.
Treason will head the list of crimes classified as "attacks against the safety of the people," it was reported.

CROP PROSPECTS IMPROVED BY RAIN

Most Parts of Prairies Now Well Supplied With Moisture—Seedling Is Delayed

WINNIPEG, May 8 (CP).—Farm operations were at a standstill in the Prairie Provinces tonight, as heavy rains, which have fallen steadily since Monday, showed signs of letting up. Almost all sections received welcome moisture.
Mingled optimism and pessimism were left in the wake of the precipitation. Farmers in the southern section, particularly in the drought area of Saskatchewan, welcomed it, but northern agriculturists were prevented from seeding, already late.
Reports indicated that all sections of the Prairies had received ample sub-soil moisture, and germination of the newly-seeded crop was assured in the southern halves of all provinces, but in the North seedling has barely got under way.

Child Revived After Apparent Death With Adrenalin Injection

Heart Had Stopped for Five Minutes Following Operation in Ontario Hospital—Medical Men All Over Canada Keenly Interested

OWEN SOUND, Ont., May 8 (CP).—The heart of five-year-old Audrey Brown, stilled for five minutes yesterday following a mastoid operation, was beating strongly again today. For little Audrey it was a return to life. For Dr. A. F. Laird, the physician who pumped nine drops of adrenalin into her lifeless body, it was the "greatest thrill" of his medical career.

Weakened from a recent attack of scarlet fever, Audrey was stricken with double mastoid. Yesterday it was found necessary to operate.

APPARENTLY SUCCESSFUL
Dr. Laird, Owen Sound specialist, performed the operation, which appeared to be successful. A few minutes after he had left the patient, a nurse rushed to him with word that the child was dead.

Examination showed that heart action had ceased.

The breathing began normal.

The doctor estimated that the child had been dead five minutes.

A DRAMATIC CASE
TORONTO, May 8 (CP).—Expressing the hope that Dr. A. F. Laird, of Owen Sound, will contribute a paper to the Canadian Medical Association concerning his revival of a girl, supposedly dead for five minutes, Dr. T. C. Roulley, secretary of the association, said today that medical men all over Canada were keenly interested in the feat.

"I don't recall any case in Canadian medical history which sounds so dramatic," said Dr. Roulley. "Adrenalin is kept close at hand by surgeons for its stimulating effect, but I know of no previous case in which people have been revived after apparent death has set in for five minutes."

Dr. Laird is to be congratulated on his presence of mind and determination to exhaust every effort to save the child, even after physical signs of death had set in, said Dr. Roulley.

SIMILAR CASES
Medical files show that in 1921 Dr. Cranston Walker, of Birmingham, England, brought back to life a child of eleven months after the heart stopped beating for four minutes.

John Puckering, fifty-eight, an English gardener, was "dead" four and one-half minutes in 1934 before an injection of adrenalin started his heart again.

A few months ago a seventy-one-year-old man of Tyler, Texas, was revived after his heart had stopped for five minutes. Nurses had already called the undertaker when physicians decided to try adrenalin.

Adrenalin, a powerful astringent, was discovered thirty-five years ago by a Japanese, and has been in constant use as a heart stimulant since. It is a cheap, colorless solution derived from the glands of sheep.

At the strikers' invitation, the British Columbia Government has agreed to send Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, to the strike area to investigate conditions and, if possible, to negotiate a settlement. Mr. Bell is due tomorrow.

Six hundred miners employed by Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia, Ltd., and Bralorne Mines, Ltd., were out on strike, demanding a general increase in wages of $1 per day per man and better working and living conditions. Maintenance crews remained at the mines, however, and there was no disorderliness and little picketing.

REACH UNDERSTANDING
Pacific Eastern miners returned to work today at an increase of 50 cents per day. Miners previously received $4.50 per day with other classifications ranging down to $3.25. It was understood the Pacific Eastern miners would be given whatever further increase the strike of employees of other mines produced.

Police have ordered that no liquor be sold to miners by the Government Liquor Store, and hotels and beer parlors have been ordered to sell no beer to the strikers.

Single men at the Pioneer Mine contributed to a fund for the maintenance of families as pay cheques were distributed today.

Operations were being continued at the Minto Gold Mine, Ltd., where employees voted against a walk-out but expressed sympathy with the strike and decided to contribute to the strike fund.

Wayside Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., and Congress Gold Mines, Ltd., employees were reported to have voted to walkout but have not known here what action had been taken. Employees of Pilot Gold Mines, Ltd., B. R. X. Gold Mines, Ltd., and Bralorne Mines, Ltd., had indicated whether they will join the strike.

CHAIN-LETTER PLAN NOW MAD SCRAMBLE

chain letters were sold from person to person and stirred up a mad scramble.

As little as possible was left to chance in Springfield's big-scale development of the original send-a-dime fad.

A customer who purchased a $5 letter was taken before a notary public. The notary made certain the customer put $5 in the mail addressed to the person whose name topped that particular chain letter. Two copies of each letter purchased were resold with the new customer's name at the bottom of the lists. With each resale the cancellation of the top name, the new customer worked up to the "pay-off" position.

Originators of $2, $3 and $5 chain letters "dug" rented office space, got stenographers and typists and hired clerks and notaries to convince customers the chains were "cheater-proof."

The "factories" sprang up in drug stores and "corridors" anywhere there was space. Other business was halted. Even executives took up the fad.

Operators of a $5 chain claimed a total investment of $1,000 within twelve hours. A taxpayer operator said he made $875 on a $5 chain, and expected more.

King Gives Welcome Home From Overseas To Empire Leaders

Philip Cunliffe-Lister for the Colonial Empire.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and other Cabinet Ministers were among those attending.

THE KING'S REPLY
The King's reply to the Empire presentations follows:

"There is a word which gladdens me more especially when I hear it used by my friends from overseas—many of whom say when they visit this country, they are 'coming home.' It is in this spirit that the Queen and I meet you today, you who represent the vast territories of the Dominions, Colonies, Protectorates, my peoples of India and the dwellers in countless isles of the sea from the Pacific to home waters.

"We greet the Prime Ministers of the Dominions now equal partners in the Empire, and I thank them for the addresses of their Parliaments, which they have handed to me. We welcome one and all to our home.

"Eventful your visit cannot fail to be. I trust it will be happy also. When the time comes for you to return, I would ask you each to take back to his own people a message of affection to every member of this great family, of which I am so proud and thankful to be the head; and a message of deep gratitude for the loyal and kind words which you have spoken in their behalf.

A GREAT INSPIRATION
"All you who are here today, and who hold responsible positions, will best know what inspiration and encouragement your words are to me to continue the task which twenty-five years ago I set myself to do. Before I succeeded my father, the Queen and I had the privilege of studying at first hand the Dominions overseas and India. We were fellow travelers then as now, comparing notes and sharing impressions. We treasure these memories and keep them alive. Moreover, what we forget, our four sons are able to recall.

"Many years before our happy partnership began I had as a midshipman sailed the Seven Seas. I early realized that the Empire has many claims on one's spirit.

"I regard this as a unique gathering where we can tell one another our successes and also our failures and mistakes. But there will be no sharp criticism nor vain regrets, for we are in sympathy with one another, conscious that we acted according to our lights for the good name and ordered prosperity of the family.

A FLEXIBLE SYSTEM
"We are sometimes told we are lacking in logic, our political institutions are loose and ill-defined. I look back on one trying and testing time through which we have passed and wonder whether a less flexible system would have strained the strains to which we have been subjected.

"With common sense and good will as our shield and buckler we have kept, in spite of all difficulties, our heritage of liberty alike for the individual and for our many constituent races. The numerous inviolable ties of sentiment and tradition which bind us together are indeed delicate, but many strands make a cable strong to bind in times of adversity.

"It is my prayer no less than my firm belief that this bond of the spirit may also prove a bond of peace.

"Some of you are, with a few happy exceptions, about my own age. I pray by task and privilege of God's blessing on your labors. With His help I will work on with you in the years that remain for that object which ever has been next to my heart: The welfare of the Mother Country and of the Dominions overseas and of India, their happiness and their good repute."

Dr. Paul Regis de Oliveira, Brazilian Ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, read their message of congratulation.

"Your Majesty's reign, filled with glory and achievement, stands in the record of our age as among the noblest in the history of this great and friendly Empire, which is itself one of the foundations of our common civilization," he said.

HEARTFELT CONGRATULATION
The message closed with heartfelt congratulations to the Monarch over his twenty-fifth accession anniversary and with the trust "that divine Providence may grant Your Majesty, the Queen, the Prince of Wales and the Royal Family long years of happiness and prosperity."

HIS MAJESTY REPLIES
The Sovereign replied:

"The warmth and sincerity of the congratulations and good wishes you have just addressed to me in the name of the diplomatic body accredited to my court have deeply touched the Queen and myself."

Declaring a "happy augury for the future" the fact that "envoys from every quarter of the globe are assembled here in amity and good will," the King continued:

"Your Excellency, once more I thank you and your colleagues on my own behalf and in the name of the Queen and of my family for your kind expressions of good will."

"I deeply appreciate and heartily reciprocate them, and I pray to God that the unity of purpose which has brought you here together may be a symbol of enduring peace in the world at large."

MR. BENNETT'S ADDRESS
Making the presentation for Canada Premier Bennett said:

"I have the high privilege and the great honor to humbly offer Your Majesty, on behalf of the people and the Government of Canada, this message of loyal devotion and of respectful congratulation.

"We render praise and thanksgiving to the Almighty that our King, whose counsels have ever been directed to the glory of God and the welfare of his people, has been spared to reach the twenty-fifth year of his reign.

"During this period events of a magnitude and consequence never recorded in the history of the world have occurred. The clash and armored strife has been followed by turmoil of economic and political adjustments. There has been no calm after the storm; no peace after the conflict.

"It has been a time that has tested as never before the qualities alike of nations and of individuals. That the British Empire has successfully withstood this test has been due in no small measure to the fact you, sir, have given us the inspiration of wise and tactful leadership, no selfish favoritism and unswerving devotion to duty.

"Under your Sovereignty the Empire has witnessed far-reaching changes through constitutional evolution. These changes, however, have served but to strengthen our loyalty to the Throne, and to deepen our sentiments of affection and devotion towards Your Majesty. Today, sir, through you, the people of your vast Empire are united in one family of nations.

WORDS REMEMBERED
"May I add, sir, that Your Gracious Consent, Her Majesty the Queen, shares in our hearts the place held by Your Majesty. We remember at this time your words on ascending the Throne, 'I am encouraged by the knowledge that I will in my dear wife one who will be my constant helpmate in every endeavor for our people's good.'"

No queen has associated herself more sympathetically or effectively with a reigning sovereign. In supporting the throne.

"I hope, sir, it is not unfitting for me to state that our King and Queen in their life and work together have given the peoples of the Empire an example which has strengthened and ennobled the conception of family life, which is the true basis of all human happiness and national greatness."

"I speak for every citizen of Your Majesty's Dominion of Canada, wherever he may dwell, when I pledge anew our allegiance and vouchsafe the earnest hope that Your Majesty may long continue under Providence to lead your people along the paths of peace, prosperity and honor."

Party differences were put aside as the House of Lords and the House of Commons today unanimously passed motion to present identical "humble addresses" of loyalty to His Majesty on the occasion of the Royal Silver Jubilee.

The addresses from Empire Parliaments were presented to the King today. Those of the British Parliament will be presented tomorrow in ancient Westminster Hall.

Sponsoring the address in the Commons, Prime Minister MacDonald paid tribute to the ruler as "a monarch who not only has ruled with constitutional equity, but a man who has felt keenly for and with his people."

George Lansbury, white-haired Opposition leader, seconded the motion, terming himself a "Socialist through and through," but declaring himself nevertheless able to say "our King has put a coping stone on the advances our people have made in political and social freedom."

Similar scenes were enacted in the Upper House, where leaders of all parties supported the motion. The Commons agreed to the motion without a dissenting vote.

DELIGHT BY CROWD
The King, wearing a bowler hat, and the Queen, ablaze with diamonds, threw a jubilee crowd of 50,000 into delight tonight by twice appearing on the balcony of the Chinese room of Buckingham Palace.

Despite the chill caused by a sudden break in temperature, their Majesties stood for ten minutes in their first appearance at 9:30 p.m. and then for three minutes at 10:30. The King waved his bowler to the wildly-cheering throngs.

VANCOUVER PIONEER CROSSES THE DIVIDE

VANCOUVER, May 8 (CP).—Dugald Carmichael, eighty-seven, pioneer Vancouver resident and employee of the British Columbia Electric Railway, died here on Monday.

Mr. Carmichael was born in Nova Scotia and came to the Pacific Coast in 1885, a year before the big Vancouver fire. He was a prominent member of the Vancouver Pioneers' Association.

BOARD ADOPTS WAGE INCREASE

Trustees Endorse Recommendation of Committee—Estimates Changed

As from May 1, members of the teaching staffs and employees of office and building and grounds will receive an additional 3 per cent to their wages and the janitorial staff of the schools will receive a 2 per cent restoration.

Without comment, the school board last night adopted a recommendation of its finance committee to increase its original estimates of receipts and expenditures by $7,800, and to decrease the estimate of the building and grounds committee by $3,500 to cover the additional cost to the board through the wage increases.

COST OF WATER
Other matters considered by the board included requests for the use of the Central School grounds for softball practice, which were refused.

The trustees will request the City Council to adjust the cost of water services to the board. At present, it was stated, the schools are paying the full rate for water, while other civic services are enjoying a reduction of around 50 per cent.

The board will endeavor to have all school properties registered in the name of the board of school trustees. At present a number of the properties are in the name of received and adopted.

Further protection for school children in school areas will be sought. It is proposed to have larger motorist signs placed at intervals in the school zones. Repairs to Grand Street at the High School as a means of protection for students were also considered by the trustees, and the usual attendance reports were received and adopted.

Beaver Centenary Marks Progress of B.C. Coast Shipping

Provincial Archives Has Unique Display of Relics From First Coastal Steamer Trading in B.C. Waters Under British Registry

IN a unique exhibit marking 100 years of progress in steam navigation on the Pacific Coast, the Provincial Archives is celebrating a Beaver centenary this week and next, it was announced here yesterday by Dr. Kaye Lamb, Provincial archivist and librarian. Original relics from the Ss. Beaver, the first steamer to ply under British registry in Pacific waters, are open to public display now and will remain so until the end of next week.

The Ss. Beaver was launched on Beaver carried five cannon, muzzle the Thames on May 7, 1835, and loading pieces with a bore of about began active trading on this coast in 1836 for the Hudson's Bay Com- pany, whose arms she bore at the stern. To Seek Lower Duties on Gas Imports Here PREMIER Pattullo announced yesterday that J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., had been asked by the Govern- ment to act as British Colum- bia's counsel before the Tariff Board of Canada, at Vancou- ver, on May 20, in association with C. H. O'Halloran. Mr. Farris is to speak to automo- tive duties and Mr. O'Halloran to a provincial request for lower import duties on gaso- line and other petroleum products.

with the Indians of that day. There are many other interesting relics, including articles made out of wood and metal taken from the old steamer, which lay for four years wrecked off Prospect Point, after the struck on July 26, 1888.

FAMOUS CHART

For more than half a century be- fore, the Beaver had plied local and coastal waters, a familiar sight to many whose names have since become famous. Compared with modern ocean liners and the triangle ferries, the Beaver appeared as a mere tug. Royalty attended her launching. Actually, she was a stout-hearted vessel, with fifty-three years of life, before mischance piled her up on Prospect Point.

Two excellent models, one as she was launched, and another at a later period are included in an excellent display, contributed in part by the Hudson's Bay Company, the Provincial Museum, and private citi- zens, together with a considerable nucleus of relics in the possession of the Archives.

TO MARK OCCASION

Marking the Beaver Centenary, the British Columbia Historical Association will meet at the Provincial Archives on Friday at 8 p.m., when B. A. McKelvie, managing editor of The Colonist, will deliver an address upon the famous old steamer and her times. Alexander Campbell, of Sooke, is to present the largest remaining piece of timber from the Beaver to the Archives at the same function.

Inviting public attendance at the Archives yesterday and for the balance of this week and next, Dr. Lamb said he would be glad to re- ceive the use of other authentic Beaver relics in connection with the display.

How better, he asked, could sub- jects in every part of the Empire pay tribute to the King than by dedicating themselves to the renun- ciation of war and the promotion of peace.

EMPIRE TRADE FACTS
Mr. Bennett dealt with Empire trade agreements from the British point of view. He said that had helped Canada over a difficult period and brought increases in British exports to Canada. If these increases were not as great as might be hoped it was to be remembered that British goods were manu- factured products, which suffered most in a depression.

Canada was now an industrial as well as an agricultural country, and because of economic nationalism the world over, had been forced to de- velop more balanced internal econ- omy than before. Also, because of debts due in the United Kingdom and elsewhere, this country had to export more than it imported.

INTRA-EMPIRE TRADE
"The uncertainty of foreign mar- kets under present conditions is in- deed one reason why the nations of the Empire should do everything possible to develop intra-Empire trade," Mr. Bennett said. "It is this idea that inspired the agreements of the Economic Con- ference of 1932, held in Ottawa. From these agreements there has followed an expansion of intra-Empire trade which becomes all the more significant in contrast with the prevailing stagnation of world trade."

"Canada, in common with other Dominions, has greatly increased her exports to the United Kingdom; at the same time the imports of British goods into Canada have also shown an encouraging increase. The value of United Kingdom goods exported to Canada was nearly 20 per cent greater in 1934 than in 1932, and this has occurred at a time of severe trade depression. If the United Kingdom exports to Canada have not yet increased to the same ex- tent under the Ottawa agreements as Canadian goods to Great Britain, it is because for the most part they are wholly manufactured goods, the sale of which, even in a period of trade prosperity, cannot be expanded so rapidly as that of raw and partly manufactured products that con- stitute the bulk of exports to Great Britain."

FACTS REVERSED TRENDS
"The chief significance of the Ot- tawa agreements in respect to Brit- ish trade with Canada is that they have reversed the long-established trends. It is a well-known fact that almost continually from the Con- federation of Canada in 1867 down to 1932 the share of the United Kingdom in Canada's total imports tended steadily to decline. The trade agreements concluded at Ot- tawa reversed that trend. It is in that fact that their real significance lies. "One other point should not be forgotten. Canadians have subscribed for many years to the prin- ciple of Empire preference. We have followed this policy consistently for thirty-five years before the Ottawa Conference. The United Kingdom, on the other hand, first gave prefer- ences on a large scale to Empire products in 1922. It is natural, there- fore, that, under the stimulus of preferences granted for the first time, exports of Canadian products should greatly expand, whereas in the case of imports of United King- dom goods into Canada the Ottawa agreements served to augment tariff preferences that had been in effect for a third of a century.

ON PER CAPITA BASIS

"The population of Canada is less than one-fourth that of Great Brit- ain and our import requirements are less than yours. Nevertheless, last year 22 per cent of these re- quirements were obtained from these islands. Your imports of Canadian goods in 1934 constituted, though greater in the aggregate than our imports of British goods, less than 7 per cent of your total imports. Put it another way, each individual Canadian bought, United Kingdom goods last year to the value of one pound eighteen shillings. The in- dividual inhabitants here purchased Canadian goods valued at one pound two shillings."

"We are grateful indeed to the people of these islands for the way they have carried out the Ottawa agreements. But, at the same time, we feel the any fair-minded British citizen who analyses these con- ditions will admit that, having re- gard to the economic depression and our geographical position, Canada also has done her part."

DELIVERS ADDRESS ON VICTORIAN ERA

G. B. Kitto Shows Slides of High- lights of Great Queen's Reign To Overseas League

While he showed a series of art- istic conceptions of highlights of Queen Victoria's reign by the use of lantern slides, G. B. Kitto recounted a number of interesting stories at a meeting of the Victoria branch of the Overseas League yesterday in Spencer's dining-room.

Saying he greatly admired Queen Victoria, Mr. Kitto told of several of her acts of benevolence and gener- osity. Beginning with a picture of Ken- sington Palace, where Queen Vic- toria was brought up by her wid- owed mother, the Duchess of Kent, the speaker took his audience through the great castles of Eng- land and Scotland. Finely colored slides depicting the coronation of the Queen in 1837 were fully ap- preciated by the gathering. Slides of some of the abbeys and chapels connected with the great castles and palaces were also shown, and in each case, Mr. Kitto had interest- ing remarks to make regarding them.

CHANGING BED AT GOLDSTREAM

Existing Road at Foot of Malahat Will Become River Course Shortly

Engineers of the Department of Public Works reported yesterday they would have the new Gold- stream section of the Malahat route ready for public traffic on May 24, though surfacing of the half-mile diversion strip will come later. The work is being pushed ahead with energy, and involves not only re-aligning of the Island Highway at Mile 12, but also relocation of the river.

When the new section of the road is opened, the existing roadway will be excavated as the new bed of the Goldstream River, which will follow the altered course for approximately half a mile. Actual excavation of the old road as the river bed will commence later in the month.

BRIDGES AVOIDED

When the work is completed, the Island Highway will cross the Gold- stream River once, and then stay on the west side of the course. The new road alignment obviates two trestle bridges, King truss spans, each sixty feet long.

Once surfaced, the new section of the road will be a material improve- ment of the Island Highway at this point. At present, work is proceed- ing with steam shovels and other machinery, and about twenty men are employed.

PROVED
It takes only 15 DROPS HOME GAS to start your engine
IT seems an incredibly small amount, but that is the actual result arrived at by Mr. G. S. Eldridge, prominent Western Canadian analyst and chemist!
Conducting his series of tests with eight different cars, ranging in age from one week to nine years, with mileages from 3 to 98,000, he found that the average car, with "cold" engine, will start to run on just 15 drops of Home Gas!
He also established that it will start and run (idle) for a whole minute on 1/200th part of a gallon of Home Gas.
Here's proof, indeed, that Home Gas is an exceptionally economical motor fuel.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM

It was not natural that at the annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company occasion should have been taken to lay emphasis on the gravity of the transportation problem in this country. The drain it is on the resources of the Dominion is one of the causes why it is so difficult to regain a full measure of prosperity. Mr. E. W. Beatty, more than anyone in the country, recognizes this. Those who are versed in the history of the Dominion are aware that the welfare of Canada and the welfare of the C.P.R. are one and the same thing. The great transcontinental railway celebrates the jubilee of its completion this year. It has a record of achievement in Canada's progress which no other single organization can boast.

The C.P.R. reports some improvements in conditions affecting the company during 1934. Reduced water loadings, however, were the cause of traffic losses. There was a 50 per cent increase in tonnage carried in the major classes of durable goods and an increase of 7 per cent in consumers' goods. Mr. Beatty believes that the immediate future will show an improvement in the wheat position. Despite the outlook the C.P.R., for the time being, intends to maintain its policy of sound economy. Cash resources are being conserved. Mr. Beatty makes it clear that "until a sound solution of Canada's railway problem is evolved the future prospects of the company must be viewed with guarded optimism." That solution has not even been approached by methods of co-operation between the two great transcontinental companies. The savings effected by that means only reached $1,093,000 in 1934.

The savings mentioned are a mere fleabite compared with what would be possible through unification of control of the railway systems. It is by unification only, says Mr. Beatty, that the "presently tremendously wasteful duplication" can be eliminated. It is that method also which offers a solution to the "unfair and dangerous anomaly" of a Government-owned enterprise engaging in direct competition with private capital. In concluding his address to the shareholders Mr. Beatty summed up sound advice referable to financial and economic conditions when he said: "I cannot stress too strongly the necessity and desirability of Government policies being directed to the early return of a balanced budget and business confidence. Then only can a fair and reasonable return on the investments of your company be permanently assured. The past railway policy of Governments has necessitated burdensome sacrifices, not only by those who have invested their savings in this company, but also, indirectly, by all classes in the Dominion. Upon an adequate and sound solution of the railway problem will depend the ultimate standard of living of many thousands of the country's citizens."

LOWEST IN THE WORLD

Canada's expenditure for defence purposes is the lowest in the world. There is an element of our population that prides itself on this fact, justifying it by pacifist intentions. It cannot, however, be justified from the standpoint of self-reliance, because it means that this Dominion relies, not on itself, but on some other source of strength in the case of an eventuality arising which would threaten the country. That is not the doctrine of self-reliance. It is not the doctrine which enhances a country's prestige. The place of any country in the hegemony of nations is determined very largely by its ability to preserve its shores inviolate when an emergency arises. Canada spends $1.24 per capita for her population for defence purposes; New Zealand spends $1.50; Denmark, $2.18; South Africa, $2.20; Australia, $2.40; Japan, $3.70; Belgium, $4.10; the United States, $6.00; Switzerland, $6.00; Italy, $8.00; Great Britain and Northern Ireland, $9.50; and France, $14.80. There must have been a perversion sense of humor in the Member of Parliament who recently objected to the "enormous expenditures" that are being made in this country for military purposes. The foregoing figures were presented for his consideration. In commenting on them Dr. Manion said: "I am sure all nations are trembling as to what we shall do with this great military power of ours."

LIBERTY AND COMPULSION

When we compare the voluntary association of a number of individuals for the purpose of co-operative effort with the enforced regimentation of Socialism we have before us two things which are as different as day and night. No amount of talk can conceal or confuse this fact. Voluntary co-operative effort appeals naturally to the spirit of initiative and good will. The prospect of being drafted or conscripted by an all-powerful authority, whether that authority resides in a single tyrant or in a revolutionary Socialist dictatorship is repugnant to those who love liberty. Socialism with its centrally-planned economy is a prospect which no doubt appeals strongly to those who hope to find themselves provided with a sheltered and irresponsible existence. It also attracts another class who hope to achieve a place, not among the many who are expected to obey orders, but among the select few who are to give orders in the proposed Socialist era; but whatever its attractions and whatever its personnel a Socialist economy can be nothing better than a slave economy held down by a ruling oligarchy of bureaucrats. Co-operation in the true sense of the word cannot co-exist with the requirements of a Socialist economy, and those using this term as a political label are displaying false colors.

An example of true co-operative action, familiar to most Canadians, is the old-fashioned "house-raising" of primitive days. The neighbors far and near assembled for this friendly service. There was no element of physical or legal compulsion involved. The spontaneous feature of a house-raising voluntarily undertaken and carried through is absent altogether from the forced labor of serfdom. A Socialist system no matter how efficiently operated partakes of the nature of a slave economy to whatever extent the workmen are denied a free choice as to the character of the work in which they engage. Some Socialists are so thoroughly convinced of their ability to think and choose for other people that they exhibit all and more than all the intolerance of religious bigotry in attempting to drag their fellow citizens and compel them to work for whatever the fanatic economic oligarchy declares to be in the public interest.

Socialists assert with much emphasis that everyone ought to be willing to work unselfishly for the general interest of the community. This will be readily admitted as an abstract proposition and no doubt sets up a fine ideal, but it is an ideal which cannot be realized by a policy of compulsion. The compulsion which is a marked feature of the planned economy is a marked antagonistic in spirit and motive to the ideal of true service. The Socialist cannot have it both ways. If and when we reach that ideal stage in which 100 per cent of our citizens are as eager to work for the State as the average citizen is to support his wife and family, there will be no need for Socialist regimentation. The compulsory element in their planned economy is the rock upon which Socialism is shipwrecked. Most people prefer political equality with liberty in a democracy to economic equality under the heavy hand of a taskmaster.

PREVENTIVE FOR COLDS

The waters of British Columbia's sea coast contain a preventive and a cure for the common cold and for other affections of a similar character. This has been discovered through experimentation among school children at Prince Rupert. Clinical tests show that regular feeding of fish oils produces specific benefits. Their vitamin contents are builders of health. The blended pilchard-grass oil appears to have particularly good effects and it has been named Thalaitol. If it is all that is claimed for it, use of the specific ought to mean the development of an extensive industry in this Province, that is, provided the initiative and enterprise are found to maintain the location here of its manufacture.

In the Fisheries News Bulletin, issued by the Department of Fisheries at Ottawa, the following tribute is paid to Thalaitol: "Throat infections were lessened, there was general improvement in the conditions of the tonsils and particularly in the case of children, who were given a blended pilchard-grass oil, the incidence of colds was decreased in marked degree."

A MAN IN A HURRY

Is the Empire of Huey getting ripe for the Gibbon who will write its decline and fall? Describing the Louisiana Caesar, a publicist says: "Resting after two years' trips from Washington to New Orleans and other trips to New York and back, the picture-story Senator from Louisiana wore well-made pyjamas of bright red satin, and outside the pyjamas a handsome dressing gown of blue flowered silk." What Babylonian stuff is this? It is only a few years since the frugal tribune of the hillsides denied that he ever owned a bathrobe, and here he is dressed up like Rex in the Mardi Gras Parade of the mystic crew of Momus. It reads ominously. The new imperialism seems to have gone Oriental in one reign. It took Rome two centuries to drop from the mainly wool of Augustus to the silken tresses of Hellogabius. Huey seems to be a man in a hurry—Chicago Daily News.

Note and Comment

We have borrowed from the English annals, reversible funds, sinking funds, the construction, and reconstruction, of ships, the laws of gravitation, the differential calculus, the seven primary colors, and vaccination. Imperceptibly we shall acquire from them their noble freedom of thought and their profound contempt for the petty trifling of the schools.—Voltaire.

There was one interesting and instructive feature of the Silver Jubilee celebration which surely should have been specially noted by the representatives of the press of the Empire. In the grand procession the Prime Minister of Canada and the Prime Minister of South Africa walked together and in the Cathedral they sat together. Canada is the greatest and the oldest of the British Dominions, and in some respects the richest. South Africa is one of the youngest of the British Dominions and in one important respect the richest. Not a great many years ago Mr. Herzog was a rebel against the Crown and this Dominion and a general in the Boer armies. During all his life Mr. Bennett has been a loyal and devoted subject of the British Crown, and all his ancestors were equally loyal and devoted to the Crown and Realm. Today Mr. Herzog is quite as unflinching in his loyalty as Mr. Bennett.

This almost unnoticed feature of the celebration illustrates the unique character not only of British institutions, but the altogether unique character of the British people. There would be no danger of another war in Europe if the people of all the nations could sink ancient feuds and animosities and agree to forget and forgive instead of aullenly brooding over events of the past, nursing their wrath and cherishing schemes of revenge. British beat the Boers, stubborn, and determined fighters, but after she had beaten them, offered to shake hands, and gave them what they had been fighting for—individual liberty and the inviolable right of self-government. Thus some of the bitterest enemies of British rule have become the most ardent supporters of British rule and British institutions. One of the ablest of Boer generals became a general in the British armies during the Great War. French-Canadians in Canada occasionally had grievances against British rule and rose in rebellion against the Crown, but all those grievances have been forgotten and mistakes forgiven, and a prominent representative of the French race has publicly expressed the view that the last shot in defence of British rule and British institutions on this continent would be fired by a French-Canadian.

Some Canadian newspaper commentators afflicted with prejudiced and jaundiced political views have stated that the chief object of Mr. Bennett in attending the Jubilee celebration was the attainment of Royal honors. Those who know the Prime Minister best declare that no such thought ever entered his mind, for he is not that kind of man, and his ambitions are as simple as the language in which he addresses the people of Canada in his speeches. If any honors came his way, they will not be bestowed because he coveted them or as the representative of one of His Majesty's Governments recommended them. Mr. Bennett is as democratic in his personal and political opinions as a former distinguished Prime Minister of this country, who accepted knighthood because it was the desire of Queen Victoria that he should accept it. Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not dishonor himself personally or lower himself in the opinion of the Canadian people when he bowed to the will of his Sovereign, notwithstanding any resolution passed by an ultra-radical or extremely democratic Canadian Parliament.

Mr. Bennett has been the recipient of many Canadian honors and decorations, but he does not flourish or flaunt them. He has neither a handle nor a tail to his name as the porcupine, as part of the United States fleet manoeuvres now in progress in the Pacific. The Navy Department, however, refused to comment on reports that the flight would begin Thursday.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY
From The Daily British Colonist of May 9, 1885.
Queen's Birthday—The celebration committee appointed to make arrangements for the Queen's birthday celebration met last night in the City Hall. Mayor Hutt was unable to be present. Hon. Mr. Durr was elected chairman. A communication was received from Captain Pittendreich, of the Bahamas, stating that an account of the late destruction of the fish wharf would result from the explosion of a gun. It would be advisable that the event take place at Beacon Hill. The various sub-committees to carry out the program, the judges, clerks, etc., were appointed. Also a committee work with the baseball club to arrange the sports at Beacon Hill. The celebration will take place on May 25.

New Buildings—Two old houses and four cabins, situated on Humboldt street next to the Belmont Hotel, were being torn down yesterday to make room for the erection of three-story and a half dwelling house for Lowen & Ry, who lately bought the property.

Will Go North—A large number of miners are to go North today to the mines on Lorne Creek, those on the newly-discovered creek in the same neighborhood as the recent strike on Kootenay. J. R. Grant, an old California miner, who spent the whole of last winter in the mine, states that they are far richer than has been reported, and fully 3,000 men could go in and make good money.

But It's True, Nevertheless
There's nothing new under the sun," runs the old philosophy. This became apparent when it was discovered that one of the Younger Roman poets, discloses the following: "It is no news that mice had eaten his shoes. Had the shoes eaten the mice it would have been portentous news indeed."—W.J.H.

Wootin the Shirts
Even politicians sometimes get twisted in their phrasology. The other night a local politician was addressing a group of party adherents and had occasion to refer to the fact that the young people of today should not "shirk their duty," but he phrased it "shirk their duty," and then tried valiantly to correct it with "dix their duty," but that's as far as he got. The gleeful audience saved him further embarrassment, and he let it go at that.—R.A.G.

The Dean Is No Bromide
The witty Dean of Columbia does not mind telling a joke or two to himself, which some what competent for the thrills he sometimes takes at newspapers, public dignitaries and others. At the Royal Society of St. George banquet, Dean Quinlan told of how he was described by a newspaper in Aberdeen, Wash., as a lecturer with a decided Oxford accent. The Dean is a graduate of Cambridge. However, this thrust at the Dean was outdone by a mayor of a small Washington town who, in introducing the Dean at a meeting, informed the audience that "he ain't no bromide."—P.C.R.

It All Depends
Two ladies were chatting in the lounge of a local hotel recently when a well-attended ball was in progress. They noticed a handsome but dissipated-looking youth being assisted to the elevator by a trim little blonde dressed in a dream of a frock. Said one lady: "What a disgusting sight, that drunken fellow being helped by the girl. I didn't come here to see things like that." "Oh," said the other lady, "don't you know who that is? That's young Billingsley Oglethorpe—Twitcheit. Pots of money. His mother is the Countess of Blankville. 'Well I never!' exclaimed the first lady, "and to think that I didn't recognize him. I would like so much to meet him. Do you think you could introduce me to him?" "O consistency, thou art a jewel!"—G.B.

Involuntarily Hyphenated
Echo played an unkind trick on Victoria's Silver Jubilee plans when it caught up and repeated the names of those receiving commemorative medals. Amplified at Parliament Square repeated the names to the four winds. Stone buildings on the harbor front gave back the sound, after an interval, "Till, the Premier, who has a down-right name and is proud of it, became Premier. 'Patullo-Patullo,' and Robert Dunn, Deputy Minister of Mines, suffered under the public impression that he was Mr. 'Dunn-Dunn.'—S.G.

If Dogs Went to School
Would Boys . . .
If children, dogs had to go to school, would they be as eager about it as a little fox terrier that was seen yesterday afternoon trying to gain admission to South Park School? Quite oblivious of the interested group of passers-by who were arrested by the sound of his furious barking, the little chap threw himself passionately against the door. Time after time, making running jumps in a vain attempt to reach the latch.—J.E.M.B.

Island Big League
There's a lot of followers of Big League baseball in this city, but how many of them know that Frankie Crosetti, regular shortstop of the New York Yankees, spent the early days of his childhood roaming around the streets of Cumberland? That's the truth. Crosetti left the Up-Island centre when he was ten years of age and moved to San Francisco with his parents. As a "kid" he made good in baseball and soon caught a regular berth with the San Francisco Seals in the Coast League. Gaining more prominence, Frankie was bought by the New York club at a big price and has been up there now for quite a stretch.—J.D.

PLAN MASS FLIGHT OF PLANES OVER PACIFIC
WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP).—A mass flight of forty-two planes from Honolulu to Midway Island was said today, in an informed quarter, to be planned as part of the United States fleet manoeuvres now in progress in the Pacific.

The Navy Department, however, refused to comment on reports that the flight would begin Thursday.

MAKING PARACHUTE FOR SAFETY TESTS
LOS ANGELES, May 8 (AP).—Colonel Roscoe Turner, speed flyer, said today he is awaiting completion of a ninety-foot parachute large enough to lower a passenger plane safely to earth, to use in a series of safety tests in mid-air.

"I expect to take it aloft within sixty days," he said.

ACTOR HAD FORESIGHT
LONDON (CP).—Edmund Gwenn, British actor now starring in "Lionel Lincoln" in the United States, showed signs of more valuable belongings before he crossed the Atlantic. Burglars who broke into his rooms in John Street, Adelphi, must be disappointed men.

WILL AGAIN ASK CITY TO ASSIST
Oak Bay Council Promises Golf Club to Once More Approach Victoria on Water Question

Members of the Oak Bay Council gave a delegation from the Victoria Golf Club, which waited upon it to seek a flat rate for water to be used in keeping up the grounds, the assurance that the City of Victoria would again be approached in an effort to secure an adjustment with the city.

The position taken by the Oak Bay Council at the last meeting is in line with that offered when the matter first came up. Oak Bay Council is not inclined to assess against the ordinary ratepayers of the municipality for the giving of a special rate to the golf club.

The council obtains its water from the city on a sliding scale. In turn the clubs using large quantities of water as well as individuals are given the advantages of reduced rates as the quantity increases.

Unless the city can be induced to give an advantage to Oak Bay in meeting the demands of the golf club, the municipality does not feel in a position to give it at the expense of the ordinary ratepayers. This reply had already been given to the golf club, but the hearing of representations was desired by the club. Led by W. H. M. Haldane and R. L. Challenor as speakers for the delegation from the golf club, the claims of the club to special consideration were presented. The keeping of the grounds in excellent condition was urged as an attraction to the city and to Oak Bay.

Window Display Tells History in Pictures

Hundreds of Victorians are being attracted this week by the special Jubilee window display to be seen in the large corner window of the Hudson's Bay Company store. At night the window is so lighted as to enhance the coloring of the drapes and flags and bring out the detail in the pictures, as shown above. On either end of the display are almost life-size photo-portraits of the King and Queen. In the center is placed a large painting entitled "Signing of the Hudson's Bay Company's Charter by King Charles II, on May 2, 1670, Granting Incorporation to the Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading into the Hudson's Bay." Also to be seen in the window is a large photograph of the blue drawing-room in Buckingham Palace, a picture of Queen Victoria and a bonnet worn by her, a picture of the Prince of Wales, sketches of early nobility, and a number of photographs of early heroes and governors of the Hudson's Bay Company.

VOTE FOR SALE OF BEER

ROLLA, B.C., May 9 (CP)—A plebiscite held here resulted in a vote of 83 to 44 in favor of a beer parlor.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 1 to 3 a.m., from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and from 4 to 6 p.m.

If the solution of personal questions of importance seem to be elusive, as well as puzzling, it might be well to "let well enough alone" and to give them the opportunity to disentangle themselves. Things usually have a way of working out for the best, so do not worry on this date over what might happen later on. During this day it will be a great mistake to make any kind of an unreasonable demand, or to try to force issues which are meeting with opposition. Legal entanglements should be avoided in business, if compromise methods possibly can be resorted to. Bargain hunting is likely to prove unprofitable, unless a great deal of discrimination is used in buying. Invitations to social functions received today, as a rule, can be safely accepted, with the feeling of assurance that under normal conditions the affair should be most enjoyable. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who are more than just ordinarily interested in someone else, will display excellent judgment if they refrain from any form of fault-finding today.

If a woman, and May 9 is your birthday, you apparently should have very few causes for worry, but many events conducive to happiness will come into your life. Avoid contracting the habit of always being dubious of a pudding being possibly good until you have tasted it. You may find it much better at times to take things for granted. Should your expectations not be realized, it will be time enough to express yourself. You are the type that will appreciate marriage, and should, through it, find a surcease from most of your serious worries. Should circumstances force you to earn a living, probably the most congenial line of work may be found in teaching, writing, acting, dancing, or as a saleswoman.

The child born on May 9, before it arrives at its teens, usually is inclined to be self-willed, as well as stubborn, but if handled diplomatically, these traits can be easily corrected.

If a man, and May 9 is your birthday, should you not permit success to go to your head, or egotism to act as a check to your advancement, your achievements should bring gratifying results. Journalism, the stage, educational work, electrical or mechanical engineering, as well as selling, may offer the right opportunity for the exploitation of your versatility.

Playwright and Producer Given Unusual Acclaim

Archie MacCorkindale Amazes Adjudicator at Festival With His Talent—Three Exceptionally Good Plays Produced—Miss Noel Cusack and Fraser Lister Receive Praise

ARCHIE MacCorkindale, playwright, director and actor, was singled out, last night, by Lady Margaret Tupper, adjudicator of the British Columbia Drama Festival being held at the Shrine Auditorium, as "an extremely talented young man. He certainly can write plays," Lady Tupper said. "It is amazing that he produces, too."

However, two others taking part in last night's festival were acclaimed by the adjudicator. Fraser Lister, who is becoming accustomed to receiving the plaudits of succeeding judges, again won the unstinted praise of Lady Tupper, while Miss Noel Cusack's acting was likened unto that of the late Sir Gerald du Maurier.

At the afternoon competition, four juvenile plays were produced. The competitions in this section of the festival will be completed Saturday afternoon, when five other plays will be presented.

CURTAIN CLUB

First on the evening programme

The acting was excellent and very much in keeping with the period.

The adjudicator thought that Mr. MacCorkindale was a little too young and lacked the dignity necessary for the part. Mrs. Wharton was extremely good, having all the dignity and charm for a character set in a period of artificiality. Miss Wilson's acting was described as perfect. "She was beautifully perfect, giving a very sympathetic portrayal of her part. She has a lovely flexible voice with so much range and coloring. Her movements across the stage were entrancing."

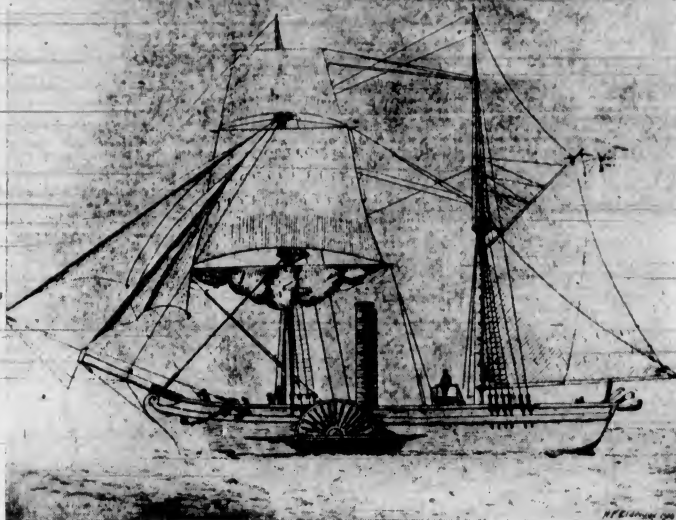

Mr. Bailey was described as a very good actor, but, in the part he took, lacked the necessary steel, military bearing. Mr. Eke might have made his role more of a stabsucking type. Miss Swan displayed the right amount of vivacity for an inn-keeper's daughter, while Mr. Trevett carried off his part quite well.

"Casino Des Ambassadeurs" was the play produced by the Punch and Judy Theatre. It was written by Mr. MacCorkindale and also directed by him. The cast comprised William Willmott, Miss Heiga, Miss Noel Cusack, Archie MacCorkindale, Miss Barr and Miss Mabel Ridley.

After paying tribute to Mr. MacCorkindale as a playwright and producer, Lady Tupper said, "when it comes to acting he seems to lack vitality. This may be due to the expending of energy on the writing of the play and its production. While his acting is intellectually interesting, it lacks vitality. He should play a little stronger."

"Miss Cusack gave an absolutely flawless performance. Her timing, a rare quality, was perfect. Her actions in removing traces of finger-

Original Rig of the Beaver

Above is shown a sketch of the famous pioneer steamer Beaver, as she was rigged when she left England for this coast in 1835. She was fitted with sails and came out under canvas, in company with the brig Columbia. Shortly before the gold run to the Fraser River in 1858, she was remodeled, and cabins were constructed for the accommodation of passengers. Her masts were shortened and sails were abandoned. She was again altered after being sold in 1874, to serve the requirements of the towing purposes to which she was put.

prints were—well the late Sir Gerald du Maurier could not have done anything so well. She varied her tone excellently. The other actors could all have played up to Miss Cusack more," the adjudicator thought. Miss Heiga was perfectly cast, but at times was quite inaudible. She lacked punch.

Mr. Willmott was commended for his excellent opening bit, with Mr. MacCorkindale and Miss Heiga, was criticized for putting a well between himself and the audience after his second entry. Miss Ridley made an extremely good charwoman, but came in a little too early at the beginning of the play. Miss Barr was commended for her minor part.

LITTLE THEATRE

"The Hundredth Trick," a romantic tragedy by Beulah M. Dix, was presented by the Victoria Little Theatre Association, and directed by Dan MacDonald. The cast included Bert Bailey, Fraser Lister, Hugh Creelman and William Lambert.

At this point in her adjudication, Lady Tupper paid particular tribute to the settings of all three plays, and particularly the last, in which the groupings of the players was good. Of Fraser Lister, she said, "I don't see how he could improve his part. He did not overdo it in any way. His brogue was well sustained, and his acting was simply perfect."

Of Mr. Bailey, she stated that while he was a good actor, he failed to maintain the Irish brogue throughout the play. He also displayed just a bit too much emotion. He has a very good stage presence, and a very good voice. Mr. Creelman played his conception of his role very good, although he was not the part should have been cast. Mr. Lambert was quite in keeping with his character.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Yesterday afternoon was children's day at the British Columbia Drama Festival held in the Shrine Auditorium. Lady Tupper, adjudicator, told an audience of 225 persons that the four plays produced by boys and girls were among the best she had ever witnessed.

Patric Junior Dramatic Club production, "The Little Gardeners," was entirely in song and rhyme and carried a subtle moral stressing beautification of school grounds by the planting of shrubs and flowers. Contrary Mary, played by Betty Doodson, was a child who refused to have anything to do with the other school children until she was persuaded to do her part in planting the grounds and help in tidying up.

Lady Tupper thought that the school teacher should have been an older girl or an adult, and that the play should have had musical accompaniment. She praised Contrary Mary as a part played in a natural manner. Players were: School teacher, Shirley Coates; Jack, Barbara Bamford; Joe, Juanita Arthur; Mary, Betty Doodson; gardeners, Viola Arthur, Joan Duncan, Mable Sangster, Doreen Menzies, June Coates, Freda Green, Doreen Beare and Dora Menzies. James Barlow directed.

SEFTON COLLEGE PLAY

Sefton College play, "The Critic," written and directed by E. F. Roberts, was a play about a play. The girls are shown in their clubhouse rehearsing for an event embracing an old theme, "King Weds Beggar Maid." Prince Philip of Slavonia, Norah Mann, drops in on the scene from a neighboring boys' school with several hints. The girls are treated to a real surprise when they learn his identity.

Direction of the play was not what it might have been, Lady Tupper asserted. Although acting was good, she said grouping was not correct. She stated that the author of a play seldom made a good director.

The players were—Ann (director), Ivy Hill; archbishop, Ivy Hill; Margaret (gipsy), Irene Webb; Edith (King's Cophetua), Doreen Lally; Wendy (beggar maid), Betty Jeanneret; Joan (Lord Chamberlain), Frances Street; Ella (sage), Margaret King; Prince Philip of Slavonia, Norah Mann; Michael (this cousin), Molly Scott.

Royal Roads School produced "The Princess and the Swineherd," directed by Miss R. W. Johnson. A petulant princess refuses gifts from the prince of a nearby kingdom, but gives twenty kisses to a swineherd in exchange for a magic pot. Her father, the emperor, drops in while the osculation is in progress and banishes his daughter. The swineherd turns out to be the prince in disguise and the play ends happily.

ACTRESS PRAISED

Lady Tupper asserted that the princess, Holly Greer, was the best actress she had seen at the drama festival. She played the production charming and delightful with good direction and proper grouping at all times.

The players were: Emperor, Margaret Greer; princess, Holly Greer; swineherd and prince, Joan Piddington; messenger, Mary Piddington; ladies-in-waiting, Robin Francis, Olga Stathol and Phyllis Piddington; pages, Peter Donald, Richard Francis and Michael Piddington.

The Western School of Dancing presentation "Franchette From France," was directed by Miss Dorothy Cox. A pretty scene is shown of a little girl's nursery with four dolls, a dollhouse, teddy bear and tin soldier coming to life at the stroke of midnight. Some clever toe dancing is shown, with jealousy aroused by actions of the French doll. A black spider comes in with the net result of harmony restored through mutual fear. The spider dance was particularly clever.

Lady Tupper said the production was more of a ballet than a play. Dancing, costumes, accents, grouping and lighting she stated were extremely good. Musical accompaniment, she thought, enhanced the charm.

The players were: Mlle. Franchette (French doll), Muriel Uthoff; Tibb Jane (wooden doll), Anne Crowther; snowflake (fairy doll), Miriam Schwabe; Ching-Ching (Japanese doll), Felicity Grant; goliwog, Shirl McArthur; teddy bear, Joyce Jamieson; tin soldier, Phyllis Going; and spider, Betty Cuth.

"Dye think this'll stand any chance at the show?" said Tam, proudly, holding up a plant-marrow. "Mebbe, mebbe," growled Mac, his neighbor and rival, "if ye can persuade th' committee it's a cucumber."

U.S. IS SEEKING SKINS AND FURS

F. P. Boucher Tells B.C. Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association of Great Market for Animals

The United States affords a great market for Vancouver Island rabbits, as that country imports annually 100,000,000 rabbit skins, members of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association were told by F. P. Boucher at a meeting on Monday night at the Y.M.C.A.

Following the reading by Mr. Boucher of a paper entitled "Forgotten Facts About Fur," a general discussion was held.

The paper showed that in the first ten months of 1934, 16,597,184 pounds of raw rabbit skins, representing a value of $7,358,158, were imported into the United States. For the same period, the total import of furs was valued at $36,509,696. Rabbit fur lends itself readily to processing, and the pelts, after dressing and dyeing, is offered for sale under fifty-eight trade names.

Treatment of fur was also discussed by the gathering.

Unostentatious Work Is Quietly Carried On By King's Daughters

District and Circle Reports Read at Thirty-Fifth Annual Convention of Order Being Held Here Show Diversity of Activities

A TREMENDOUS field of humanitarian and welfare activities "In His Name" was represented in the reports of the various circles of the British Columbia branch of the King's Daughters read at the opening sessions of the thirty-fifth annual convention held here yesterday. Two sessions today will complete the meeting, which is taking place at the Y.W.C.A.

Sixteen of the twenty-eight circles composing the British Columbia branch of the order were represented at the sessions by forty-seven delegates who, in turn, represented the total membership of 541. Although delegates were not present from twelve circles, reports were sent in by each of these as well as by the sixteen circles represented, and it was very apparent that all were keenly alive to their responsibilities and were working to the best of their abilities to fulfill their pledges.

LEND A HAND
Among the numerous activities undertaken in the spirit of "lending a hand" to the less fortunate members of society were general relief work, the providing of Christmas hampers and Christmas cheer, showers for prison camps, maintaining wards in hospitals, visiting destitute families, assisting girls' clubs, providing dreammaking courses, making it possible for children with poor eyesight to get glasses, making munster, Victoria and Vancouver rehearsed the subject in still another form.

DELEGATES WELCOMED

The proceedings opened at 10:30 a.m. with a short devotional service conducted by Rev. O. L. Jull, and immediately thereafter a silent standing tribute to departed members was made. Mrs. Welsh's brief message of welcome, as provincial president, was followed by the greetings of the district president, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, who welcomed the delegates to Victoria.

The respective district presidents responded: Mrs. R. F. McKenzie for Vancouver, Miss M. E. Wilson for Duncan, Mrs. E. Christmas for Surrey, Miss Ross as representative of the Central Council, and Mrs. J. Bryson for New Westminster.

ELECTION HELD

One of the most important matters of business during the day was the election of the executive, which will meet today and elect officers for the ensuing year. The results were as follows:

Miss M. S. Ross (Central Council member), Mrs. L. H. Hardie (honorary president), Mrs. J. W. Barwick (Vancouver), Mrs. J. Bryson (New Westminster), Mrs. Graham Bruce (Vancouver), Mrs. F. G. Lewis (Vancouver), Mrs. W. H. Lewthwaite (Vancouver), Mrs. R. A. Playfair (Victoria), Mrs. C. A. Welsh (New Westminster), Mrs. A. Perry (Victoria), Mrs. R. F. McKenzie (Vancouver), Mrs. W. W. Collins (New Westminster), Mrs. E. Christmas (Surrey), Mrs. William Russell (Victoria), and Miss M. E. Wilson (Cowichan).

Miss Ross, a past president and Dominion secretary, moved that the convention send a letter of congratulation to Their Majesties on the occasion of their Silver Jubilee. One of the special donations made during the year was $25 sent to the King's Jubilee fund for cancer research.

The following circles were represented by delegates at the meeting: From Cowichan district, Scattered Circle and Looking Out Circle; from New Westminster district, Royal Aid, Lend a Hand, Ever Ready, Happy Thoughts (Junior), from Victoria, Ministering, Hawthorne, Victoria, Ready to Help, Speedwell and Willing Workers (Junior), and from Vancouver, Margaret, Griffin, Whatsoever, Dorcas and Inasmuch.

Circles unable to send representatives were as follows: From Surrey district, Hilltop, Golden Rule and Sunshine; Pitt Meadows district, Let's We Forget, and Vancouver, Pleasant, Mispah, Primrose, Fairview, St. Andrew's, Fleur de Lys, Margaret Bottoms and Silver Cross. All these last, however, sent in excellent reports, which were read in rotation, the same as reports from the represented circles.

THE DELEGATES

Following is a complete list of delegates attending the convention: Representing the provincial executive: Mrs. C. A. Welsh, president, of New Westminster; Mrs. F. G. Lewis, of Vancouver, vice-president; Mrs. R. A. Playfair, Victoria, secretary; and Mrs. W. H. Lewthwaite, of Vancouver, treasurer.

From Vancouver: Mrs. S. Harris, Miss Ethel Wilson, Mrs. William Ross, Mrs. McNair and Mrs. C. Wilbur.

GUESTS AT LUNCHEON
The visiting delegates were the guests of Victoria district members at luncheon at the Y.W.C.A. at midday yesterday, a pretty souvenir occasion in the form of a tiny corsage bouquet of "handicraft" flowers being presented to each member of the executive, and lavender posies being prepared for each of the other members.

Last evening, Mrs. H. E. Young, Oliver Street, who is to be luncheon speaker today, entertained the convention members at an informal reception at her home, assisted by her daughter, Miss Rosalind Young, and several of the members of the Junior circles of the order. Refreshments were served later in the evening from a table charmingly decorated in the King's Daughters' colors, purple and white iris and orange tapers being used.

During the early part of yesterday afternoon's session, a much-enjoyed interlude was filled with vocal numbers by Mrs. Styles Sehl.

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson will conduct the devotional exercises at the first session at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Following the close of the meeting this afternoon, members will attend the garden party, to be held at Mrs. David Spencer's home, 2806 Cook Street, an event sponsored by the Victoria district circles.

Vancouver Fire Chief Married
VANCOUVER, May 8 (CP).—An interesting wedding ceremony was performed here last night when Mr. Archibald McDiarmid, Vancouver fire chief, and Miss Jessie Anne Cameron, niece of Mrs. J. Blackwood, of Victoria, were united in marriage at Knox United Church by Rev. A. F. Munro.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Murdoch Ross, wore an Empire model gown of pure white French crepe with a long graceful train. Her bridal veil, of embroidered net, fell in long folds over the dress train and was secured to the head with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet consisted of roses, lily-of-the-valley and white carnations, tied with white ribbon and the Cameron tartan.

Miss Hanna Baly, bridesmaid, wore an apple green net dress with a short train, and the matron of honor, Mrs. A. Clouston, wore a smart tunic frock. Mr. Jack Connell was groomsmen.

When Lloyd was a very little chap, one of his sisters was given a new wrist watch—one with a very narrow, oblong face. After it had been duly admired by various members of the family, someone asked Lloyd for his opinion. He replied: "I don't like it. It's too long between lunch and dinner time!"

Delightful Reception Given for Graduates

VANCOUVER, May 8 (CP).—One of the outstanding events on the social calendar of the members of the graduating class of the University of British Columbia this week was the reception given by President and Mrs. L. S. Kilnick today.

To add the very necessary touch of blue and gold to the low floral table decorations, candles of the university colors in silver holders were chosen. The dignity of the rich paneling of the Vancouver Hotel oak room, where the reception was held, was further enhanced by Spring flowers in warm glowing tones. It was a most suitable setting for this annual event noted for the friendly atmosphere that pervades the tea room.

SPECIAL GUESTS
As guests, President and Mrs. Kilnick invited members of the faculty, of the board of governors and of the senate of the university, the members of the graduating class, and the parents of out-of-town students visiting Vancouver for graduation week.

Those who received with President and Mrs. Kilnick the 750 students and congratulated them on their recent successes were Dean M. L. Bolter, Dean and Mrs. Daniel Buchanan, Acting Dean and Mrs. C. M. Turnbull, and Dean and Mrs. F. M. Clement.

ASSISTING THE HOSTESS
Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. J. M. Ellis, Mrs. Robie Reid, Mrs. Chris Spencer, Mrs. Denis Murphy, Dr. Evelyn Harris, Mrs. Sherwood, Miss Isabel Harvey and Mrs. H. N. MacCorkindale.

The installing officer, Mrs. Mabel Webb, was assisted by deputies, Mrs. Margaret Beckwith and Mrs. Charlotte Waters, in installing the new officers.

The minister and his wife were receiving a visit from a woman parishioner, when the minister's small daughter walked up to the visitor and, gazing intently at her, said: "Oh, my, but aren't you plain!"

Her mother was horrified. "Whatever do you mean?" she said. "Apologize at once."

"I only meant it for a joke," replied the child.

"Well," said the mother, "it would have been a much better joke if you had said: 'How pretty you are!'"

STATUES WILL BE FEATURED

Living Gold Posers Will Be Highlights of Annual Y.M.C.A. Circus

When patrons of the annual Y.M.C.A. circus last year wended their way home after the show, the most-talked-of act was the "Living Statues of Gold" in which several young men posed in classical groups against a background of black. With a view to pleasing patrons, officials of the circus have arranged an entirely new series of posers for the show to be presented at the Horse Show Building here tomorrow and Saturday.

Glistening gold paint will again cover the bodies of the posers, who are Chris McRae, Fred Noel, Jack Allison and Art Chapman. Two of the posers pay tribute to the recent Dominion championship basketball victory of the Blue Ribbons. These are "The Bucket Play" and "The Rebound." An old-fashioned scene is portrayed in the group entitled "The Blacksmiths."

ATHLETIC SUBJECTS
The majority of the posers are of athletic build. The titles include "The Plunger," "The Hurdler," "The Weight-Lifter," "The Swan Dive," "The Combat," "Breasting the Tape," "The Bowler" and "The Oarsman." Others, inspired by different subjects, include "The Drink," "Relaxation," "The Laborers" and "The Python."

Another feature of the show is the mass band drill, in which 200 boys present a simultaneous drill with wands. A grand parade, headed by a circus band and presenting the entire cast, will open the show promptly at 8:15 o'clock each night.

cock, chairman of the International Fisheries Commission.

The achievement of Christy, who had first class honors in physics and mathematics, marked the third time he has won distinction in his university career. He held a matriculation scholarship on entering U.B.C. and won the University Scholarship for general proficiency in his third year.

He plans to return to the university next year for post-graduate work in physics. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Christy and a native of Vancouver.

IN APPLIED SCIENCE
Percy R. Sandwell headed the graduates in applied science to win the Brock Scholarship for post-graduate work, and the Convocation Prize for proficiency among fifth year science students. Although now a Vancouver resident, he matriculated from Powell River High School.

Netta Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, of North Vancouver, led the graduating class in commerce to win the Kiwanis Club Gold Medal. The Walter Moberly Memorial Prize was won by Gled Goumenouk, graduating with honors in electrical engineering.

The French Government 10,000 Francs Scholarship for proficiency in French was won by Joan Y. Dangleizer, of Vancouver. She will probably continue studies at the Sorbonne in Paris.

will be of heavy concrete, served with a track from the Government wharf. The substantial character of the construction is necessitated by the fact that the first floor will be used for the storage of heavy equipment. The second floor will be utilized for the warehousing of lighter materials and equipment. In addition to the main storage space on the ground floor, the carpenter and machine shops will be located in separate quarters in the north side of the building, while on the south side there will be ten special storage rooms.

The framework will require seventy-two tons of steel, while 130,000 feet of timber will also be used in construction, in addition to large quantities of sand, gravel and cement.

Upon completion of the structure, considerable heavy equipment will be installed, including a traveling crane to handle heavy loads.

Excavation work will be started as soon as arrangements can be made. It was announced. In order to provide a maximum of employment this work will be done by hand labor, instead of using power shovels. It is estimated that it will require five months to complete the building.

STEPIE FETCHIT PLAYHOUSE STAR

Colored Actor Has Important Role
With Will Rogers in "County Chairman"

Stepie Fetchit, Fox Film's septa-thunderbolt, knows now that people have been talking about him.
While he is delighted with this attention, it is certainly causing him a lot of work and concentration.
It seems the studio is in receipt of several thousand letters, asking if he can be made to appear in more pictures.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen
Capitol—Roberta, starring
Fred Astaire.
Columbia—Otto Kruger in
"The Crime Doctor."
Dominion—"It Happened One Night," with Clark Gable.
Playhouse—"County Chairman," featuring Will Rogers.

something can't be done to make Stepie's delivery of lines more intelligible. These same people don't seem to realize that he speaks this way in real life. However, when he was cast in the part of "Sassafras" in the new Will Rogers picture, "The County Chairman," now at the Playhouse Theatre, Director Joan Bu-chane, Producer Edward W. Butler, and Rogers went into a huddle and decided Stepie would speak plainly or they'd know the reason why.

They worked out the simple process of making him take his possible, by one until everyone could understand his lines. This was especially true in the sequences, where he worked with Rogers and incurred a real Rogers frown of disapproval.
If there is one person the dark-boy frightens, it is the Oklahoma sage.
So after the first few days, Stepie broke out in clear dulcet tones for the first time in his screen career, and another problem was settled.

"Crime Doctor" Is At the Columbia

"Find the motive for a murder, and you have gone a long way toward finding the killer."

That's an axiom of the man hunting business which figures importantly in the plot of "The Crime Doctor," RKO's new picture, which comes to the Columbia Theatre today, with Otto Kruger, Karen Morley and Nils Asther.

In the murder case of the story a motive is definitely established and it threatens to hang an innocent man. Another motive, the real one, is carefully concealed by the expert cunning of a "master mind."

Kruger will be seen in the role of the world's greatest detective who plays a most amazing part in the strange murder mystery. Nils Asther portrays his alluring wife, and Karen Morley has the part of a young author wrongly accused of the killing.

John Robertson directed the production, which was adapted from a story by Israel Zangwill, and Captain Don Wilkie, former ace of the United States Secret Service, served as technical director of the production.

DOMINION Five of the major theatre awards given annually by the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences fell to the lot of Columbia's sensational picture, "It Happened One Night," which is co-starring with Clark Gable, who is co-starring with Claudette Colbert in the picture, now at the Dominion Theatre, was given the prize for the best performance of any male screen player. Miss Colbert was honored as having given the best performance of any female player.

CAPITOL Telling a story said to be as sparkling as its music and dancing,
R-K-O's Radio's picture of the Jerome Kern hit, "Roberta," is now at the Capitol Theatre, with Irene
Dunne, Fred Astaire and Ginger
Rogers in the starring roles.
The theme is romance in a Paris shop. Two young Americans, portrayed by Astaire and Randolph Scott, are stranded in Paris. One becomes the proprietor of a fashionable gown shop by an accident of inheritance. The other sets the Parisians agog with his twinkling teeth and mad humor.

Some actors are quite well off in fact, they are better off than on.

CARDIGAN

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

SYNOPSIS

Michael Cardigan, ward of Sir William Johnson, Commissioner of Indian Affairs for the Crown, finds himself in the line of the hated duties of school. His guardian has consented to let Cardigan enter the army.

Cardigan has already formed an undying hatred for his instructor, Captain William Butler, secretary to Sir William. Secretly, Cardigan admires Pellicy Warren, 18-year-old kinswoman, and ward of Sir William, though he has teased her cruelly. Pellicy is known to the Mohawks as Silver Heels, because barefoot she has out-traced white and Indian children, winning a knife which Cardigan has coveted.

In a scuffle, Silver Heels has bitten Cardigan in the hand, but he refuses to tell, preferring to intimate that the wound was caused by Sir William's pet farrier.

On leaving the schoolroom, Cardigan challenges Butler, who tells him to wait a year until he has "grown up."

While Sir William and Butler discuss the growing unrest, particularly in New York and Massachusetts, Cardigan goes to his room and reflects on his new status. He recalls up thoughts of his father, who died at his birth, and of his father, who fell with Wolfe at Quebec.

Cardigan returns to his room, where he finds a letter from Pellicy, which she had given him on condition of his not telling Sir William of the letter incident. Silver Heels, in alarm, points out a strange Indian, carrying a gun. He hears messages from a distant tribe and is made welcome. Michael sets his commission in the "Warrior's Arrow." The Indian messenger is admitted to council, with everybody highly expectant.

CHAPTER IV

I now for the first time obtained a distinct view of the stranger as he stepped forward, truly a superb figure.

For a space he and Sir William stood face to face in silence; then the belt-bearer, looking warily around at the empty room, asked why Chief Warragh received his brother alone.

"My brother comes alone," replied Sir William with emphasis. "It is the custom of the Cayuga to send three, with each belt."

"I hear three belts," said the Indian haughtily. "Nine of my people started from the Ohio. I alone live."

Then, for the first time in my life, I sat at a figurative council fire and listened to an orator of those masters of oratory, the peoples of the Six Nations.

Dignified, chary of gesture, facing the baronet, related briefly his name—Quider, which in Iroquois means Peter; his tribe, which was the tribe of the Wolf, the totem being plain on his breast. He spoke of his journey from the Ohio, and of the loss of the eight who had started with him, all dying from smallpox within a week.

Respectfully of Sir William as the one man who had protected the Six Nations from unjust laws, from incursions, from white men's violence and deception.

And then he began his brief speech, drawing from his pouch a black belt of wampum:

"Brother: With this belt we breathe upon the embers which are asleep and we cause the council fire to burn in this place and on the Ohio, which are our proper fire-places.

(A belt of seven rows)

"Brother: The unhappy oppression of our brethren by Colonel Cresap's men, near the Ohio carrying-place, is the occasion for our coming here. Our nation would not be at rest, nor easy, until they had spoken to you about it. They have now spoken—with this belt.

(A black and white belt)

"Brother: What are we to do? Lord Dunmore will not hear us. Colonel Cresap and his men, to whom we have done no harm, are coming to clear the forest and cross our free path which lies from Saint Sacrament to the Ohio. What shall we do? Instead of polishing our knives we have come to our brother Warragh. Instead of seeking our kin, the Mohawks, and the Oneidas, with painted war belts to throw between us and them, we come to our brother and ask him, by this belt, what is left for us to do? Our brothers have taught us there is a God. Teach us He is a just God—by this belt."

(A black belt of five rows)

SHELL OIL COMPANY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA, LTD.

During this speech Sir William sat as still as death; neither by glance nor by gesture betraying the surprise, indignation and alarm which this exposure of Colonel Cresap's doings caused him.

As for me, I, of course, vaguely understood the breach of faith committed by Colonel Cresap in invading the land of our allies, and the danger we might run should this Cayuga chief go to our Mohawks and Oneidas with war belts and inflammatory appeals for vengeance on Cresap and his men.

It is seldom the custom to reply to a speech before the following day. I was prepared, therefore, when Sir William promised an answer on the morrow.

The Cayuga listened in silence; then, resuming his blanket, he turned on his heel and passed slowly and noiselessly from the room.

Now, for the first time in my life, I saw a trace of physical decline in my guardian. His hand, holding the belt, had fallen trembling.

Looking up to meet my eyes, he smiled, watching the sympathy which twisted my face.

"All these wars! All these wars! Thirty years of war!" he murmured, caressing the belt. "War with the French, war with the Maquas, the Hurons, the Shawnees, the Objibwas! War in the Canadas, war in the Carolinas, war east and west and north and south! And—I am tired."

He let the belt slide to the floor. There came a flush of earnest color into his face.

"Why, look you, Michael," he said with child-like eagerness, "I found with child-like eagerness, 'I found a wilderness and I leave a garden. Look at the valley. Look at this fair and pretty village. One hundred and eighty families. Three churches, a free school, a courthouse, a jail, barracks—all built by me.'"

Sir William slapped the table. "Look, Michael. Should war come between King and colonies, neither King nor colonies should forget that our frontiers are crowded with thousands of savages, who, if adroitly treated, will remain neutral and inoffensive. Yet here is this madman Cresap turning the savages against the colonies by his crazy pranks on the Ohio."

"But," said I, "in his blindness and folly, Colonel Cresap is throwing into our arms these very savages as allies."

Sir William stopped short and stared at me with cold, steady eyes. "Michael," said he presently, "when this war comes—as surely it will come—choose which cause you will embrace, and then stand by it to the end. As for me, I cannot believe that God would let me live to see such a war; that He would leave me to choose between the King who has honored me and mine own people in this dear land of mine."

He raised his head and passed one hand over his eyes.

"But should He in His wisdom demand that I choose—and if the sorrow kills me not—then, when the time comes, I shall choose."

"Which way, sir?" I said, in a sort of gasp.

But he only answered, "wait."

Stupefied, I watched him. It had never entered my head that there could be any course save unquestioned loyalty to the King in all things.

What, then, were these tea-hating rebels that Sir William should defend them at breakfast and in the faces of half a dozen of His Majesty's officers? I knew little of the troubles in Massachusetts, and I had little sympathy for people who made such an ado about a shilling or two.

Something of these thoughts may have been easily read in my face, for Sir William said, with some abruptness:

"It is not money; it is principle that men fight for."

I was startled. Although Sir William sometimes had a way of rounding out my groping thoughts with sudden spoken words which made me fear him.

"I shall stand by you, sir, whatever comes," said I.

"Get you gone, lad," he said, "out into the sunshine of the day." Silver Heels waved to me from the garden, and I strolled out to join her there. "Presently she spoke of my new honors, and there was neither malice nor teasing in her voice.

"I had not thought that you were so nearly a man to be appointed cornet of horse," said she.

"And you," said I magnanimously, "are almost a woman." But I said it from courtesy, not because I believed it.

After a silence she said, "Michael, I have a secret. Will you promise never, never to tell?" she asked.

Her earnestness piqued my curiosity, but I promised with a tolerant smile.

"Well, then," she said, lowering her voice, "I am sure that Mr. Butler is in love with me."

"Mr. Butler?" I cried out. "Why, he's an old man. Why, he's nearly thirty."

"He is not old," she said firmly; "thirty years is but a youth's prime, which you will one day comprehend."

Then I told her of my defiance of the meeting Mr. Butler had half pledged me, and I swore to her that I would kill him, eye to eye and are sixteen, never to receive his addresses until Sir William speaks to you of him? Swear it, or I will go straight to Mr. Butler and strike him in the face!"

"Micky, what are you saying? Sir William knows all this."

"Taken aback, I dropped her hands, but in a moment seized them again. "Swear!" I repeated, crushing her hands. "I don't care what Sir William says! Swear it!"

"I swear," she said faintly. "You are hurting my fingers."

I scarcely heard her, being occupied with my anger against Mr. Butler. And to think that Sir William approved of his suit!

Little by little, however, the hot anger cooled in my veins, leaving a refreshing youthful confidence that all would come right. And sitting there with Silver Heels, I confided to her that I, too, had been in love, that the object of my respectful passion was Miss Marie Livingston, who would undoubtedly be mine at some distant date. I then revealed my desire to see Silver Heels suitably plighted, drawing a pleasing portrait of an imaginary suitor who should fill all requirements.

Presently I disclosed myself as the mysterious original of the portrait.

"You!" she exclaimed. Then, not to hurt me, she said it was quite true that I did resemble her ideal, and only lacked years and dimes daring and bright. She rose, picked up her skirt, and mocked me in a curtsy, then marched off, nose in the wind, to join Sir William, who was just entering the garden.

That Body of Yours

HAY FEVER—SPRING, SUMMER AND FALL

While most cases of hay fever occur in the early autumn, there are many cases which occur in the Spring and Summer months.

It is generally admitted that the tendency to hay fever is hereditary, but why it attacks just one in every six persons is hard to understand.

In addition to this hereditary or nervous tendency, it is thought that deformities or deficiencies of the nose and throat are also a factor in a number of cases. Many physicians believe that fatigue and lowered resistance are also causes, yet individuals in the best of health after a real rest and vacation, with a needed gain of weight, have only to come in contact with certain pollens from plants or trees to have the usual attack.

This ailment has sometimes been called "seasonal" pollen fever because it is due to pollens in the air. There is, first, the Spring type, almost always due to tree pollens—oak, birch, maple, hickory, elm; second, the Summer type, due to grasses, timothy, June grass, orchard grass, red top, sweet vernal, plantain; third, the Autumn type, due almost always to ragweed pollen.

The symptoms are familiar to everybody—itching of nose and throat, with violent sneezing, itching of eyelids, redness and soreness of the eyelids, tears flowing, dread of light, mucous from nose, ears stuffy, and a forehead headache.

Naturally, with these symptoms present, the patient often becomes weak, irritable, depressed, loses his appetite, and is often unable to sleep.

The best treatment is likewise known to everybody: that is, getting away from regions where the pollen is plentiful. This, of course, is impossible for the majority of people.

The correction of any nose and throat conditions—sprung, enlarged turbinates and tonsils, enlarged sinuses—should be the first step.

The second step is the desensitizing of the patient by the type of pollen that is causing the symptoms. This is done by injecting the pollen extracts under the skin two to three months before the expected attack.

The injections are given once or twice a week, the dose being gradually increased. This may have to be done for two or three years before results are obtained.

Local applications containing ephedrine or epinephrine—adrenalin—to the eyes and nose, either as drops in the eye or sprays or jellies up the nose, give considerable relief and permit the patient to be about and at work.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

CELEBRATED ON EMPRESS

Passengers and Personnel
Of Pacific Liner Honor
Silver Jubilee Day

Colorful ceremonies marked the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the reign of King George and Queen Mary aboard the Canadian Pacific liner S.S. Empress of Canada as the big white ship ploughed her way through the blue Pacific sea en route to Victoria on Monday last. Passengers, the ship's staff and all members of the crew of the Canada entered into the spirit of the occasion.

There were no dull moments from 1 o'clock in the morning of May 8 when a wireless message jumped across the air from the liner's aerials to convey the congratulations of the ship and her passengers to their Majesties in London on the celebration of their Silver Jubilee until the wee small hours of Tuesday morning when the glamorous carnival staged in honor of the event wound up in the first-class reception room.

During the day, according to Mrs. J. D. Pugh, of Vancouver, who is a much-travelled patron of ship flying the Canadian Pacific flag, everybody celebrated. In all her travel experience, she had never witnessed anything comparable to the enthusiasm which was displayed by everyone aboard on Silver Jubilee day. She stated that even the chief caught the spirit of the occasion and designed a five-tier cake-creation which was on view in the dining-room of the liner when she arrived here yesterday morning, when it was displayed proudly by the chief steward. The cake was surmounted by their Majesties and featured Empire colors in flag decoration with a crown, and the trimmings lions.

ALL TOOK PART
"The ceremonies on shipboard in which everybody had a part," Mrs. Pugh related, "began at 10:30 o'clock when there was a thanksgiving service in the lounge. This was followed by the drawing of cash sweepstakes, a goodly percentage of the pool being turned over to the R.M.S. Empress of Canada King George V Silver Jubilee Fund."

Then the British passengers aboard the ship were the hosts at an 'at home' to all other nationalities in the first-class reception room, which was attended by every passenger aboard, all being treated with the traditional hospitality of Britishers bent on being good hosts."

Community singing on the promenade deck came next, and Mrs. Pugh stated that it would be a thrilling memory with her for a long time. There was no restraint, the songs being rendered full throated, many that were featured being old war-time favorites. Nor were the children of the ship overlooked. There were children's sports, many of the older passengers vying with one-another in making the occasion memorable for the youngsters, the sport events being climaxed with a children's tea party.

HORSE RACING
Then there was more "gambling" for the grown-ups. Horse racing was featured on the promenade deck, with a percentage of all wagers going to the ship's jubilee fund, the day concluding with the carnival revels which continued long past midnight. In which all the passengers and the greater part of the liner's company took part.

Local toasts by Captain A. J. Hoeken, R.N.R., and Staff-Captain W. T. Kinley, were also featured in the day's ceremonies, both officers expressing themselves with a dignity which in keeping with the nature of the sentiment.

Extinction of Antarctic Whales Feared

Picturesque days of the whaling industry have given place to a more scientific method of slaughter which threatens to exterminate the huge monsters of the deep. To a modern harpoon gun loaded, capable of piercing the vitals of the largest whale. The sharpened harpoon, attached to which is a rope, has a hollow end loaded with powerful explosive. The usual shot is about thirty feet. Right, the carcass of a dead whale inflated to make it float and "staked" with a Norwegian flag, intimating that its captors intend to return for the body. Lower left, a huge finback coming up amid ice floes to look for more open water. Lower right, a dead whale and a whaling ship—in reality a factory for the complete handling of the dead whales.

Consul-General for China at Vancouver Served There
1926-1929

CHUN LOW PAO

Returning to Canada after an absence of six years, Chun Low Pao was a passenger aboard the liner Empress of Canada arriving here yesterday morning. Mr. Pao is the newly-appointed consul-general for China at Vancouver, having served at vice-consul between the years 1926 and 1929, with the exception of some months in the year 1928, when he was acting-consul-general for China at Ottawa.

Since leaving Canada in 1929, Mr. Pao has been consul-general of China at Melbourne, Australia, and at Auckland, New Zealand, being appointed to Vancouver from the latter place. He arrived here from New Zealand by way of Nanking, where he spent a month before starting on the Pacific crossing.

Mr. Pao stated he was delighted to get the Vancouver appointment, as he had made a great many friends there. He hoped the good relations that now existed between China and Canada would continue indefinitely. He was also optimistic over the possibilities of a big increase in trade between the two countries. At the present time the balance of trade was in favor of Canada, but he said he was going to do his best to sell Canada more goods, and is ready and eager to co-operate in every way with exporters on this side of the Pacific.

Although he had not remained very long in Nanking and could not say much about actual conditions prevailing throughout China, Mr. Pao declared that Government leaders there considered that things were gradually getting better. Communism in Western China was still a big problem for the authorities, but the impression he gathered was that Chiang Kai Shek had the situation well in hand, and that it was only a question of a comparatively short time when order would again prevail.

The consul-general was accompanied by members of his family. He was met here by K. F. Wu, vice-consul for China at Vancouver, and Richard Yip, chancellor of the consulate for China in the Mainland city.

Mrs. Nabor

The new treasurer wrote a letter, marked the host, "except that he and 50 per cent of those in arrears can't spell." "Is that so?" said the minister. "Yes, he ought to be corrected on other letter and all but one paid." Finally he wrote one more, and the last man sent in his cheque. Shortly afterwards the pastor was invited to dinner at the man's home.

"You have a new treasurer at the church now, haven't you?" inquired the host.

"Yes," answered the pastor, undecided as to how his parishioners felt towards him.

"He writes a nice letter," remarked the host.

Employer—"My boy, I started out of college on the theory that the world had an opening for me."

Offire Boy—"And you found it."

Employer—"I did. In fact, I'm in the hole right now."

HOLIDAYED IN HAWAII

W. M. Neal, Vice-President of C.P.R. Western Lines,
En Route Home

W. M. Neal, vice-president Western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, accompanied by Mrs. Neal, arrived here yesterday morning aboard the Ss. Empress of Canada from a holiday spent in Hawaii.

To ship reporters the railway executive stated that they were probably better acquainted with the Canadian news picture than he was. He said that it had been a real holiday, and that the divorce from work had been absolute while he was away.

Looking the picture of health, Mr. Neal said he had been greatly benefited by the sea voyage and the stay in Honolulu, where he had had a most enjoyable visit, and was quite ready to go to work again.

Mr. Neal proceeded to Vancouver on his way to Winnipeg. He was met here by Captain R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service; J. A. Kennedy, superintendent of the Equimilk & Nanaimo Railway; his private secretary, Kenneth Knowles, and other railway officials.

WALLACE GIVEN EASY VERDICT OVER TOD MORGAN

King's Plate Will Be Run at Toronto With Many Entered

Nominations Show Most Open Field in Years With Two Score Probables Lined Up — Listaro Is Favored — Tentative Odds Announced — May 18 Is the Big Day

By DAN BURRITT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO, May 8 (CP).—Results of their winter training a mystery to the public, candidates for the seventy-sixth running of the King's Plate are gradually filling up the long avenues of stalls at Woodbine Park, where the Canadian horse racing season will be officially opened on May 18.

More than two score Ontario-bred thoroughbreds have been nominated for the most historic race in North America, and openness of selections indicates that a large field will line up in the presence of the Governor-General, who attends in his official capacity to prevent the winner with the Plate and fifty guineas donated by the King.

The more powerful stables are only starting to open training quarters at Woodbine, and observers have had little opportunity of seeing the favorites in action. It will be matter of days before trainers and owners give their mounts the tests over the mile and a furlong to decide if entries will be made.

LISTARO FAVORED
Though R. S. McLaughlin's Parkwood Stables, present holders of the nine furlong and express double that Listaro will be able to hold the pace he established to beat the crack two-year-olds last season.

Son of The Romp II, a well-known sprinter, Listaro was perfect on short distances until he was a foot or so out of the gate. Rumors say the ailment has not completely healed, and the skeptical are readily lending their support to Vingt Cinq, a three-year-old filly acquired by McLaughlin from the Robson stables; Epicurus, a colt sired by Epinard; and French model noted for its fast coverage of long distances, and Gay sympathy, a filly from the once-powerful Seagram stable which won the event eighteen times.

Gay sympathy, by Solace out of Gallant Kitty, has started in fourteen races without scoring a victory, but the filly finished in second place a half dozen times and twice carried off third money. In almost every one of her efforts she was showing best speed in the last furlong and it is for this reason she is picked as second choice on the books.

Another nominee in the same category is Lipton, Ryland H. New's three-year-old gelding by Bachelor Slipper-Baby Breeze.

Then there is T. C. Cochenour's five-year-old Papalico, the "Old Faithful" of the Plate, who has been roaming the tracks the last three years to add another victory to the last race he won as a youngster in 1932. Cochenour's gelding is the oldest nominee in the race, open to three-year-olds and up who have never won a race since graduating from junior company.

BETTING ODDS
There will be many trials and much training before a definite choice is established by those who really have the say, but it is generally realized that among the candidates this year there is no Horometer, the McLaughlin gelding which last May established an all-time Plate record of 1:54.1-5, and that the event will be the most open in the last ten years.

Odds quoted on the favorites in the winter books have been reduced slightly, but there will still be a good choice for those favoring the longer shots. Tentative odds are being quoted as follows:

Listaro 5 to 1, Gay Sympathy 7 to 1, Vingt Cinq 9 to 1, Chickens 10 to 1, Lipton 10 to 1, Speygold 12 to 1, Calico Miss 20 to 1, Epicurus 25 to 1, Whicprig 25 to 1, Goggles 25 to 1, Rightfoot 30 to 1, Papalico 30 to 1, Worthing 40 to 1, Eileen D. 40 to 1, Boom Days 40 to 1, Don't 45 to 1, Andie 50 to 1, Discount 75 to 1, Linesman 75 to 1, Tax Free 100 to 1, Beechview 100 to 1, Fly Miss 100 to 1, Sally Fuller 100 to 1, Count Court 100 to 1, Langstaffe 100 to 1, Judge Rock 100 to 1, Hillcoin 125 to 1, Prince Fleet 125 to 1, Galtie 125 to 1, Olation 150 to 1, Natal 200 to 1, Sweet Edwin 200 to 1, Big Blue 250 to 1, Parma Violet 250 to 1, Crystal Beach 250 to 1, Rural Shower 300 to 1, March Breeze 300 to 1, Bandman 500 to 1, Big Dollar 500 to 1, Dimark 600 to 1, Easteroom 750 to 1.

First picture taken as the barrier was snapped for the running of the sixty-first Kentucky Derby, held at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Kentucky, last Saturday. Omaha, the winner, owned by Belair Stud, is the fourth horse from the left. Today, one of the big pre-race favorites, owned by C. V. Whitney, while Nellie Flag, the only filly in the race, and owned by Calumet Farm, is next to the Whitney horse; and Roman Soldier, who finished in second place, a length and a half back of Omaha, is third from the left. Next to Omaha is Boxhorn, owned by E. R. Lou Ambers Is Favored To Capture Title Clash

Former Sparring Partner of Tony Canzoneri Will Attempt to Win Lightweight Title From Him on Friday Night in New York

NEW YORK, May 8 (AP).—A little more than three years ago Luigi D'Ambrosio, with $2 in his trousers, hitchhiked from Herkimer, N.Y., to see his idol, Tony Canzoneri, turn in a superb boxing exhibition to ward off Chocolate's challenge.

A year and a half later, D'Ambrosio had progressed so far along the Canzoneri trail that he was hired as a sparring partner at $5 a day to help condition Tony for the Garden match in which he knocked out the fading Chocolate in two rounds. He was even better a few weeks later when he sparred with Tony, getting him ready to beat Cito Locatelli. Then their paths diverged.

Tony slid off from his greatest days, and Barney Ross won his title. D'Ambrosio, only twenty-two, one of nine young D'Ambrosios, started to get ahead.

But Ross resigned his title, so now by official edicts Ambers finds himself fighting Canzoneri for the crown, and a favorite at 7 to 5.

TONY HAS FORTUNE
Canzoneri, with 125 fights behind him, a big farm housing the parent Canzoneri and all the Canzoneri relatives at Marlboro, N.Y., a fortune estimated at $300,000 tucked away in bonds, thinks this may be his last fight.

"I might just as well retire," he said, "if kids like that, are beginning to catch up with me."

FORSYTH TO MEET SALVODI IN TOP MATCH

Former Notre Dame Football Star Booked for Saturday's Wrestling Card

"Jumping" Joe Salvodi, dark-skinned Italian youth who made gridiron history as a fullback for Notre Dame, prior to entering the professional mat game, was yesterday booked for the top match of the wrestling card at the Tillicum gymnasium.

One of the gridiron's most colorful players, Salvodi has brought all of his color into the grappling game, and today is rated as one of the biggest drawing cards in the mat game. He was the first wrestler to introduce the punishing "drop kick" to the grappling pastime, and as a matter of fact, has chalked up a number of victories with this dangerous offensive weapon.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS
Sports Editor: The fine showing made by our local boys in winning eight B.C. championships, three boxing and five wrestling titles, serves some public support to send them to the Canadian finals, which will be held May 21, 22 and 23.

Security Prices Surge Upward at New York Mart

NEW YORK, May 8 (AP).—Stocks today indulged in a rousing upsurge that was a surprise even to the bulls. Gains of 1 to 4 points were chalked up throughout the list as Wall Street forces wrestled with a two-sided inflation theory in the Government bonus issue.

Turnover climbed well above the million-share mark at 1,394,660. In the vanguard of the advance were metals and oils, but the general run of industrials were quick to feel the buying urge. Rails were the least sought-after group, but even there fractional improvement was the rule.

Gainers of 2 to 3 points or a little more included Allied Chemical at 146, American Can at 121, American Smelting at 45 1/2, American Telephone at 117 1/4, Chrysler at 43 3/8, Case at 59, Cerro de Pasco at 58 1/2, Western Union at 26 7/8 and Union Carbide at 54 1/2. Lifts of 1 to 2 points appeared in a long list of active issues, including, among others, Anaconda at 147 1/2, Bethlehem at 23 3/4, United States Steel at 32 3/8, International Harvester at 41 1/2, Public Service of New Jersey at 29, Consolidated Gas at 24 3/8, Standard Oil of California at 36 1/2, Seaboard Oil at 35 3/4 and Texas Gulf Sulphur at 31 3/4.

Amongst Canadian mining issues, Dome Mines and Noranda were up between 1 and 2 points. A strong rally in United States Government obligations overshadowed other developments on the bond market. Generally higher prices also prevailed among corporate issues at the close, despite an uneven start.

Following three or four days of dropping tendencies, all types of Government loans snapped back in impressive fashion. No less than fourteen Treasury issues averaged 8-32nds higher. Moderate improvement was general in the foreign department.

TORONTO MINES CLOSE FIRMER

Silvers Advance Well After Early Weakness—Base Metals Follow Suit

TORONTO, May 8 (CP).—The mining market took the headlines with an unexpected bearish display of energy today and closed higher just as bearish notions were beginning to permeate financial circles. The market opening found bar silver down nearly 2 cents in London. Early selling on declining prices was short-lived, the tone firming before the first hour was over and improving slowly through the rest of the day. Early 1,000,000 shares changed hands.

The inflation angle arising from the heavy vote given the Soldiers' Bonus Bill at Washington together with technical factors, mainly short selling in recent sessions, were credited with producing the market change of front. At the opening the silver stocks were sold quite actively at price concessions, Eldorado dropping back to 210, Castle to 100 and Bear to 55. Final prices showed Eldorado at 231, Castle at 112 and Bear at 63, all up 3 to 8 cents. Nipissing gained 9 cents and Premier 5. Trading less active, the base metals pulled along with the silvers, Noranda chalking up a gain of 120, Falconbridge 5, Sherritt 1 and Hudson Bay 5.

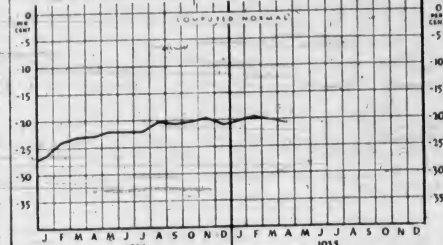

Senior golds were strong, but volume was on the small side. Dome closed 12 1/2 cents down, Bralorne finished 10 cents down, the strike at the mine possibly helping to unsettle the stock. Oils were active and strong, going to Royalty, Agincourt, Midway and Calmont.

Leading Stocks at Eastern Exchanges Stronger at Close

MONTREAL, May 8 (CP).—A sudden change of sentiment on the part of traders late in today's session of the Montreal Stock Exchange caused a reversal of the market trend and prices were strong at the close.

Buying was distributed between several different groups with the metals, oils and railway supply stock attracting the major share of attention. Liquors were neglected. Nickel rose 3-8 at 27 7-8, while Consolidated Smelters advanced 1-1-2 points to 160 1-2, and Hollinger 10 cents at 16.60. McCall Frontenac was up 3-8 at 13 7-8. Supply stocks were main strong points. Canadian Car common rose 7-8 at 7 7-8, the preferred 1-1-2 at 45. On the miscellaneous list, Bell Telephone rose 3-4 at 124 1-4, and Montreal Power 5-8 at 28.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 8 (CP).—The Toronto Industrial share market swung into a broad advance today on a volume of buying that topped all peaks since January last. Buoyancy appeared to be traceable to the strong revival of inflation sentiment in the United States.

Volume reached 46,000 shares. Imperial Oil and International Petroleum had a combined turnover of 27,000 shares or 60 per cent of the aggregate business. Petroleum advanced to a new peak at 34 1-4, and Imperial 3-8 to 77 7-8, its high since January, 1931. The McCall issues gained 1-4 to 3-4. North Star preferred 25 cents, and Canadian Oil common, 3-4 to 11 3-4. The drop in bar silver gave the metals a temporary setback, but both Nickel and Smelters recovered on heavy buying, Nickel closing 3-8 up at 27 7-8, and Smelters showing a final loss of one-half point. C.P.R. and Ford were up narrowly. Canadian Industrial Alcohol "A" closed 3-8 lower at 9 5-8. Walkers common and Distillery-Seagrams

WHEAT PRICES CHANGE LITTLE

Fair Export Buying at Winnipeg Offsets Depressing Effect of Crop News

WINNIPEG, May 8 (CP).—The elements played tough and go with traders on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, but the market effect was a stalemate. Wheat prices closed unchanged to 1-8 cent higher. May 83 3/4, and July 83 3/8 cents. A plentiful supply of moisture for western Canada's newly-seeded crop assured, traders who based their operations on this barish factor were stayed by the continued dryness in the United States southwest, decidedly bullish.

As a result, pit trade was small with buying and selling at a minimum. Some support from the export sale of 250,000 bushels of Canadian wheat enabled values to recover from an opening half-cent setback, and thereafter the session was quiet.

The trend of outside markets had little effect here, Chicago closed with net gains of 1 cent, after an early session setback, while Liverpool was weak throughout and closed 1-4 to 7-8d lower. Buenos Aires was fractionally higher.

Some buying of rye was the only feature to the cash and coarse grains section.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

WHY DO WE CALL IT A MUMMY? "There is a reason," says the philosopher, "for everything—if we can only find it."

Especially is this true of words, which, as a rule, do not just happen. Consider, for example, "mummy," which in most minds is associated particularly with the embalmed dead of the ancient Egyptians.

While "mummy" may at first thought appear to have an Anglo-

Saxon flavor, it is, nevertheless, Oriental in origin. We have "mummy" as a corruption of the Persian "mumiya," meaning "wax."

Wax played an important part in the solemn Egyptian rite of embalming, it being the substance with which the body was finally anointed before being laid to rest.

"You complain that you have had to support your wife's family?" the court questioned the man seeking a divorce.

"Yes, Your Honor."

"How much of a family has she?"

"Four children, Your Honor."

"Who is their father?"

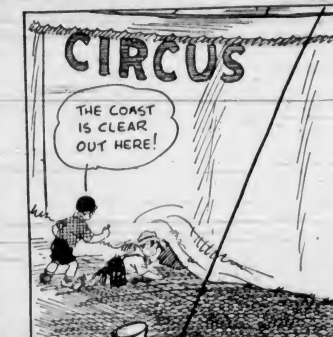

"I am, Your Honor."

OPEN PARK ON MOUNT NEWTON

Alex McDonald, M.P.P., Performs Ceremony — Many Residents Present

SIDNEY, May 8.—The formal opening of the John Dean Park on Mount Newton took place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Accession Day.

In the morning a rustic arch had been erected by volunteer workers at the entrance to the park on the Indian Reserve Trail.

In the presence of the parks board and a representative group of residents of North and South Saanich, F. J. Baker, president of the parks board, addressed those present and told of the events leading up to the formal opening. This splendid section of country was donated by John Dean in 1921 for park purposes. No definite step was taken for its development until about a year ago.

TO BE PRESERVE.
The park contains one of the best remaining stands of virgin timber on the Saanich Peninsula. It is to be developed as a native flora and game preserve.

Mr. Baker called on Alex McDonald, M.P.P., to perform the opening ceremony. In his address Mr. McDonald stressed the importance of the park as a heritage to the district for the present generation and the future. He expressed his pleasure in seeing so many children and young people present.

Mr. Baker and Mr. McDonald, assisted by the co-operation of those present and of the entire district in developing the John Dean Park for the purpose intended.

After Mr. McDonald cut the tape across the arch and declared the park open, those present signed their names in a register to be kept as a permanent record.

A basket picnic was held on the grounds, which has splendid facilities for picnickers, there being abundance of shade and spring water.

New Members of Legion Admitted

DUNCAN, May 8.—Rev. A. Blachlager presided at a well-attended meeting of the Cowichan Branch, Canadian Legion, on Tuesday evening.

Five new members were admitted, and one transfer made. The sum of $25 was voted toward the gymnasium fund. Arrangements were made for the Legion to attempt a showing of the film, "Lost We Forget," at Nanaimo on Friday evening.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a life membership to Comrade A. J. Castle in recognition of long and faithful services to the Cowichan Branch since its inception.

FIRE PROTECTION TO BE IMPROVED

DUNCAN, May 8.—At last night's meeting of the City Council, the water committee announced that an agreement had been reached with the Utilities Company to replace the present six-inch water main on Cairns Street with an eight-inch pipe. This will give better pressure and fire protection in the higher portions of the city.

W. H. Hawkes, president of the local C.C.F. organization, wrote asking permission to hold a tag day in Duncan in aid of the unemployment relief strikers. The application was refused.

Approval was given to a new schedule of power rates, which will reduce the cost of electric power to consumers to one and a half cents per kilowatt. This is a considerable reduction over previous rates.

A protest will be lodged through the Municipal Union against some of the provisions of the Police and Prisons Regulations Act, which, it is claimed, as now framed would inflict a serious hardship upon municipalities.

The streets committee's programme of street hard surfacing was approved. This calls for the laying of 7,500 gallons of tar on city streets—a considerable increase over last year's figures.

YACHT CLUB HAS ANNUAL MEETING

DUNCAN, May 8.—The annual meeting of the Maple Bay Yacht Club was held on Tuesday afternoon at the clubhouse. There was a good attendance, and Admiral Nugent was in the chair. Admiral Nugent's resignation from the presidency, owing to an early departure for England, was accepted with regret. Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. H. Napier; vice-president, Colonel M. Dopping-Hepburn; re-elected; secretary-treasurer, P. McPherson; re-elected; committee, N. R. Craig, Captain J. D. Groves, R. H. M. Shaw, W. A. Baret, C. E. Bromilow, John Fox, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Deykin, Colonel Slater, Mrs. I. D. Mackenzie, H. F. Vidal. Plans for the season were left to a further meeting for discussion.

Bid Farewell to Retiring Chaplain

TOFINO, May 8.—Members of the Clayoquot Sound branch of the Canadian Legion held a smoking concert in their hall Tofino on Saturday night as a farewell to their retiring chaplain, Comrade Rev. J. W. Leighton, who, for the past five years, has been vicar-in-charge of the Anglican West Coast Mission with headquarters at Tofino, and who has been transferred to take charge of the mission to the Seamen's Institute at Vancouver. The president of the branch, Comrade J. H. Mitchell, on behalf of the members, presented Comrade Leighton with a club bag, and the evening followed on with soldier songs and stories. Occasion was also taken to welcome Mr. Leighton's successor to the West Coast, Rev. John Burrows.

ELGAR CHOIR GIVES CONCERT AT SIDNEY

SIDNEY, May 8.—Members of the Elgar Choir and assisting artists presented a concert in Stacey's Hall on Tuesday evening.

Many attended to hear this very creditable performance. The choir was directed by J. W. Buckler, and Miss G. Straight, A.T.C.M., acted as accompanist.

Assisting the choir were Miss Josephine Charlebois, soprano; George Farmer, tenor; Miss Catherine Craig, elocutionist; Chris Miller, violinist, and the Elgar Male Quartette.

Flowers were presented by Miss Gwen Hollands to Miss Josephine Charlebois, Miss Catherine Craig and Miss Gertrude Straight.

TOFINO, May 8.—The Tofino Hospital Society acknowledges the following further donations, towards its fund to build an emergency hospital for the West Coast at Tofino: Murdoch MacLeod, Tofino, $10; American Can Co., $25; Victoria Phoenix Brewery, $15; J. E. Day, Victoria, $5; Mrs. G. R. Hendry, Tofino, $5; Commander B. H. Syme, Kennedy Lake, $5; J. R. Motion, Alberni, $5; E. A. Goodwin, Victoria, $1; Sig.
